

International Human Resource Management

Third Edition

Policies and practices for multinational enterprises

Dennis R. Briscoe
Randall S. Schuler
Lisbeth Claus

Contents

List of illustrations	viii
List of tables	ix
List of boxes	x
IHRM in Action	xi
List of vignettes	xii
Foreword	xiii
Acknowledgments	xv
List of acronyms	xvii

Introduction	1
---------------------	----------

PART I INTRODUCTION TO INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT: THE CONTEXT

1 The globalization of human resource management	9
---	----------

The internationalization of business	10
The internationalization of human resource management	20
Strategic international human resource management	29
The evolving international human resource function	32
Conclusion	34

2 Creating the international organization: strategy and structure	40
--	-----------

Global organizational structure	42
Choice of method for entry into international business	53
Organizational structure and design	65
International human resource management and global organizational design	68
Research on the structure and performance of the multinational enterprise	69
The global learning organization: the tie that binds	70
Conclusion	71

3 International human resource management and culture	75
The nature and importance of culture	77
Country culture versus company culture	85
Cultural convergence and/or divergence	86
Research in international human resource management	87
Impact of culture on international human resource management	92
Conclusion	93
4 Global employment law, industrial relations, and international ethics	96
The institutional context of international business	98
The global legal and regulatory context of the multinational enterprise	105
International labor relations	121
The international framework of ethics	136
Conclusion	148
PART II INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT IN THE MULTINATIONAL ENTERPRISE: POLICIES AND PRACTICES
5 Global talent management and staffing	155
Global work force planning and forecasting	156
Staffing the multinational enterprise: an introduction	165
Staffing with international assignees	170
Host country nationals	190
Third country nationals	192
Immigration law	194
Conclusion	194
6 Training and management development in the multinational enterprise	198
Training in the multinational enterprise	199
Issues related to global training and development	200
Virtual and global teams	208
Global leadership development	211
Development of a global mind-set	214
Cross-cultural preparation for international assignees	220
Knowledge management in the multinational enterprise	230
Conclusion	230

7 Global compensation, benefits, and taxes	236
Global remuneration in the multinational enterprise	238
Compensation and benefits for international assignees	254
Global compensation and benefits management in the multinational enterprise	279
Conclusion	281
8 International employee performance management	286
The concept of performance management	287
Performance management in the multinational enterprise	288
Performance management of international assignees	297
Conclusion	308
9 The well-being of the global work force, global human resource information systems, and the structure of today's international human resource management	312
The well-being of the global work force	313
Global human resource support services and information systems	324
Structure of global human resources	329
Conclusion	337
Notes	342
Author index	378
Subject index	387