

event
planning
ETHICS AND ETIQUETTE

A Principled Approach to the Business of
Special Event Management

J U D Y A L L E N

John Wiley & Sons Canada, Ltd.

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	xi
Preface	xv
PART ONE: Business Ethics	1
Chapter 1: The Ethical Cost of Doing Business	3
Event Planner and Supplier Professional
Working Relationships	3
In-Office Sales Presentations	6
Communication Between Planners and Suppliers	11
Business Meals	12
Familiarization Trips	15
Industry Functions	18
Holiday Celebrations	21
Proposals and Quotes	25
Event Operations	37
On-Site Meetings	38
Business Referrals	38
Confidentiality	41
Business Favors	42
Chapter 2: Fair Competition	43
Supplier-to-Supplier Ethics	43
Staff	53
Chapter 3: Maintaining Ethical Boundaries	59
Business Interactions Between Event Planners and Clients	59

Finding the Right Match to Do Business With	63
Using Business Discretion	68
How to Handle Unethical Behavior	70
PART TWO: Business Etiquette	79
Chapter 4: Business Etiquette, Protocol and Entertaining: On Your Home Turf	81
Their Offices	83
In Restaurants	89
Out and About	100
Elevated Entertainment	101
Out On the Town	102
Industry Events	103
At Home	105
Weekend Retreats	106
Holiday Parties	107
Chapter 5: Business Etiquette, Protocol and Entertaining: Out of Town or Country	111
Familiarization Trips	112
Site Inspections	115
Personal Travel	127
PART THREE: Codes of Conduct	131
Chapter 6: Codes of Conduct in the Office: Clients, Suppliers and Planners	133
Chapter 7: Codes of Conduct On Site: Clients, Suppliers and Planners	145
Pre-Event Meetings (Pre-cons)	148
On-Site Event Orchestration	151
Post-Event Celebrations	167
Client, Supplier and Planner Codes of Conduct	168
Chapter 8: Codes of Conduct on Site: Event Planning Crisis Management	173
Guest Safety and Security	173
Event Fulfillment, Safety and Security	174
ABCs of Event Planning Crisis Management	176
Sample Plans	179

Recap of the ABCs of Event Planning Crisis Management	182
Chapter 9: Event Planning Ethics, Etiquette and Essentials A-Z	183
Chapter 10: Event Planning Dos and Don'ts: How to Develop In-Office and On-Site Ethics and Business Etiquette Policies	211
Conclusion	227
Index	231