

CALL
RESEARCH PERSPECTIVES

Edited by

Joy L. Egbert
Gina Mikel Petrie
Washington State University

2005

LAWRENCE ERLBAUM ASSOCIATES, PUBLISHERS
Mahwah, New Jersey London

Contents

Preface ix

PART I: INTRODUCTION TO CALL RESEARCH

- 1 Conducting Research on CALL 3
Joy L. Egbert
- 2 Criteria for Effective CALL Research 9
Keun Huh and Wen-chi Hu

PART II: RESEARCH PERSPECTIVES

- 3 Metaphors That Shape and Guide CALL Research 25
Carla Meskill
- 4 Sociocultural Perspectives on CALL 41
Mark Warschauer
- 5 Interactionist SLA Theory in CALL Research 53
Carol A. Chapelle

6	Metacognitive Knowledge, Metacognitive Strategies, and CALL Mirjam Hauck	65
7	A Systemic Functional Linguistics Perspective on CALL Bernard Mohan and Lynn Luo	87
8	Visuality and CALL Research Gina Mikel Petrie	97
9	Authentic Language in Digital Environments Heather Lotherington	109
10	Flow as a Model for CALL Research Joy L. Egbert	129
11	Considering Culture in CALL Research Birgitte Gade Brander	141
12	Situated Learning as a Framework for CALL Research Yu-Feng (Diana) Yang	155
13	Design-Based Research in CALL Sudsuang Yutdhana	169
14	A User-Centered Ergonomic Approach to CALL Research Françoise Raby	179
PART III: CONCLUSION
15	Toward a Cartography of CALL Gina Mikel Petrie	193
	Author Index	197
	Subject Index	203