

SECOND EDITION

nation-building discourse

neo-liberalism

Weber
militarism

dialectical thinking

post-colonialism

capitalism ($)

colonialism ($)

feminism

imperialism

Marx

Durkheim

Techno

A CRITICAL INTRODUCTION TO

SOCIOLOGY

Modernity, Colonialism, Nation-Building and Post-Modernity

AMIR MIRFAKHRAIE

Kendall Hunt
publishing company

Contents

.....

	List of Boxes	v
	Preface	vii
PART ONE	Introducing Critical Sociology	1
	Chapter One: Sociology, Discourse, and Public Philosophy	3
	Chapter Two: Sociological Imagination and Critical Sociology	27
PART TWO	Sociology, Sociological Theories, Controversies, and Debates	43
	Chapter Three: Sociology: a multi-faceted field	45
	Chapter Four: Sociology, Debates, and Methods	73
PART THREE	From Premodernity to Modernity	91
	Chapter Five: Sociological Field, Context, and History	93
	Chapter Six: Sociology and the Rise of Modern Societies	101
PART FOUR	Modernity and the Birth of Sociology	109
	Chapter Seven: Sociology, Modernity, and Change	111
	Chapter Eight: Modernity, Expert Systems, and Modernism	123
PART FIVE	Modernity, Historical Epochs, Nation-States, and Construction of Identity	135
	Chapter Nine: Modernity, the Enlightenment, Society, and Nation-States	137
	Chapter Ten: Identity and the Self in Modernity	155
PART SIX	Industrialization, Political Revolutions, Urbanization, Capitalism, Militarization, and Modernity	171

	Chapter Eleven: Sociology and Modern Technological, Social, and Economic Changes	173
	Chapter Twelve: Sociology and the Rise of Capitalism	187
	Chapter Thirteen: The Welfare State, Neoliberalism, and Postindustrialism	205
PART SEVEN	Capitalism, the State, Nation-States, Surveillance, and Violence	221
	Chapter Fourteen: Sociology, Power Structure, and Canada	225
	Chapter Fifteen: Theory, the State, and Sociology: An introductory Reflection	245
	Chapter Sixteen: Nation-States, Violence, and Imagined Identities	253
PART EIGHT	Colonialism, Imperialism, and Postcolonial Relations	289
	Chapter Seventeen: Colonialism, Imperialism, and Postcolonial Relations	293
	Chapter Eighteen: Colonialism, Domination, and Resistance	323
	Chapter Nineteen: Theory, Capitalist Formation, and Economic and Cultural Oppressions	343
	Chapter Twenty: Canada, the Nation-Building Process, and Aboriginal Others	357
	Chapter Twenty-One: Immigration, Multiculturalism, and the Canadian Nation-State	375
PART NINE	Globalization, Postindustrialism, and Postmodernity	399
	Chapter Twenty-Two: Modernity and Globalization	401
	Chapter Twenty-Three: Ideology, Globalization, and the Neoliberal Framework	411
	Chapter Twenty-Four: Postindustrial Societies and Changes from Industrialism	415
	Chapter Twenty-Five: Postmodernism: A critique of modernity	423
	Conclusion	433
	References & Bibliography	435