

STORIES of CULTURE AND PLACE

An Introduction to Anthropology

Michael G. Kenny and Kirsten Smillie

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO PRESS

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
Preface	xiii
Introduction: First Contact	xvii
The New World	xvii
A Mission from God	xviii
Captain Cook in the Islands of Paradise	xxiii
Simon Fraser's Quest	xxviii

PART I: THEORY, METHODS, AND CONCEPTS 1

1 Culture Shock	3
Introduction	4
What Do Anthropologists Do ?	4
Experiencing the Field	7
Collecting, Organizing, and Analyzing: Research Methods for Understanding the Social World	14
Ethical Considerations in Anthropological Research	20
Unity and Diversity	21
Conclusion	23
2 Life in the Field	25
Introduction	26
Setting the Stage	26
Contemporary Anthropology	39
Applied Anthropology	40
Conclusion	48

PART II: CLASSIC QUESTIONS IN ANTHROPOLOGY 51

3 Historical Beginnings	53
Introduction	54
Charles Darwin: An Anthropologist?	54
The Myth of "The Savage"	59
Lewis Henry Morgan	64
Conclusion	67

- 4 Kinship 69
 - Introduction 70
 - What Is “The Family”? 71
 - The Power of Myth 73
 - The Nature of Kinship Systems 77
 - Defining Kin: Legal Implications 84
 - Conclusion 88
- 5 Symbol, Myth, and Meaning 93
 - Introduction 94
 - Reconsidering the Culture Concept 95
 - Comprehending Others 96
 - Techniques of the Body 98
 - Culture Goes Public 100
 - Meaning in Context 104
 - The Dying and Reborn God 113
 - Conclusion 114

PART III: CONTEMPORARY ANTHROPOLOGICAL ISSUES 117

- 6 The Politics of Culture 119
 - Introduction 120
 - The Concept of Ownership 121
 - Traditional Practices, Contemporary Times 129
 - Culture, Law, and the Role of the Anthropologist 131
 - Conclusion 141
- 7 Understanding Gender 145
 - Introduction 146
 - We “Do” Gender 147
 - Gender and Social Organization: The Family and the Economy 156
 - Rejecting the Gender/Sex Dichotomy: Third Genders and Cross-Cultural Analysis 159
 - Theory Steering Perception 163
 - Conclusion 164
- 8 Race, Science, and Human Diversity 167
 - Introduction 168
 - Understanding Diversity 168
 - The Rise of Genetics 178
 - Red, White, and Black 178
 - African Racism 182
 - Genetic Identities 186
 - Conclusion 190

9 Anthropology, Cultural Change, and Globalization 193

Introduction 194

The Language We Use: Important Terms and Concepts 194

Understanding Processes of Change: An Anthropological Perspective 199

The Globalization of Anthropology: Multi-Site Ethnographies
and Virtual Worlds 213

Conclusion 216

Conclusion 219

Glossary 221

References 227

Sources 241

Index 243