

SPORTS MARKETING AND THE PSYCHOLOGY OF MARKETING COMMUNICATION

Edited by

Lynn R. Kahle

*Warsaw Sports Marketing Center
Lundquist College of Business
University of Oregon*

Chris Riley

*Founder, Studioriley
Portland, Oregon*

2004 LAWRENCE ERLBAUM ASSOCIATES, PUBLISHERS
Mahwah, New Jersey London

Contents

Foreword by Laurence Chalip	xi
Preface	xvii
List of Contributors	xxi

I: CONSUMER BEHAVIOR

- |          |   |           |
|----------|---|-----------|
| 1 | Exploration of Consumption and Communication Communities in Sports Marketing                                | 3  |
|          | Tao Sun, Seounmi Youn, and William D. Wells  |           |
| 2 | Fanatical Consumption: An Investigation of the Behavior of Sports Fans Through Textual Data                 | 27 |
|          | Scott W. Kelley and Kelly Tian   |           |
| 3 | “We Are Number One!” The Phenomenon of Basking-in-Reflected-Glory and Its Implications for Sports Marketing | 67 |
|          | Vassilis Dalakas, Robert Madrigal, and Keri L. Anderson  |           |
| 4 | Risky Sports: Making the Leap   | 81 |
|          | Aviv Shoham, Gregory M. Rose, and Lynn R. Kahle  |           |

II: SPORTS CELEBRITY ENDORSEMENTS

- |          |   |            |
|----------|---|------------|
| 5 | The Strategic Use of Celebrity Athlete Endorsers in Print Media: A Historical Perspective | 107 |
|          | Melinda J. Jones and David W. Schumann   |            |

6	The Effects of Multiple Product Endorsements by Celebrities on Consumer Attitudes and Intentions: An Extension	133
	Ainsworth A. Bailey and Catherine A. Cole
7	Magic Johnson and Mark McGwire: The Power of Identification With Sports Celebrities	159
	Michael D. Basil and William J. Brown
III: THE CONSEQUENCES OF SPONSORSHIP
8	Seven Psychological Mechanisms Through Which Sponsorship Can Influence Consumers	175
	John W. Pracejus
9	It's Gotta Be the Shoes: Exploring the Effects of Relationships of Nike and Reebok Sponsorship on Two College Athletic Programs	191
	Jan Slater and Carla Lloyd
10	American Consumer Attitudes Toward Corporate Sponsorship of Sporting Events	211
	Lance Kinney and Stephen R. McDaniel
11	Do Sport Sponsorship Announcements Influence Firm Stock Prices?	223
	Lance Kinney and Gregg Bell
12	A Review of Team Identification and Its Influence on Consumers' Responses Toward Corporate Sponsors	241
	Robert Madrigal
IV: MARKETING STRATEGY
13	Teams as Brands: A Review of the Sports Licensing Concept	259
	Rick Burton
14	SportNEST: A Nested Approach to Segmenting the Sport Consumer Market	271
	Mick Jackowski and Dianna P. Gray

15	Understanding Ambush Marketing: Implications of Information Processing	293
	Vassilis Dalakas, Robert Madrigal, and Rick Burton
V: SOCIAL ISSUES AND SPORTS MARKETING
16	Aggressive Marketing: Interrogating the Use of Violence in Sport-Related Advertising	307
	Steven J. Jackson and David L. Andrews
17	Smoke and Ashes: Tobacco Sponsorship of Sports and Regulatory Issues in Canada	327
	Timothy Dewhirst
18	Social Marketing of Sport	353
	John J. Jackson
19	Teenagers' Perceptions of the Influence of Advertising and Price Versus Interpersonal, Social Factors on Their Purchases of Brand Name Athletic Shoes and Clothing	365
	Timothy P. Meyer, Katheryn Gettleman, and Thomas R. Donohue
	Author Index	381
	Subject Index	393