

JJ Wilson

how to teach listening

with Audio CD

PEARSON
Longman

Contents

	Page
Introduction	7
1 Listening in the world and in language learning	9
• The why and how of listening – motivation and mechanics
• The characteristics of spoken English
• Why listening is difficult
• Bottom-up versus top-down approaches to listening
• Why students should listen to English
• The place of listening in language teaching
• Communicative Language Teaching (CLT)
• Hearing English in context
• Listening and language learning – six myths?
2 Listening texts and listening strategies	25
• What makes a good listening text?
• Authentic versus pedagogic
• Strategies good listeners use
• Different types of listening text and different processes required
3 Listening sources, listening tasks	40
• The characteristics of effective listening
• Different sources of listening
◦ Teacher talk
◦ Student talk
◦ Guest speakers
◦ Textbook recordings
◦ Television, video, DVD and radio
◦ Songs
◦ The Internet
• Types of comprehension exercise
• How to create tasks
4 Pre-listening skills and activities	60
• Listening in the lesson – the sequence
• The role of the teacher
• What a listener needs to know before listening
• Activating schemata/predicting
• Establishing reasons for listening
• Generating questions
• Pre-teaching vocabulary
• Things to avoid during the pre-listening stage

5	While-listening skills and activities	81
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Why use while-listening activities? • Listening for gist • Listening for detail • Inferring • Participating actively • Note-taking • Dictation • Listen and do
6	Post-listening skills and activities	96
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reflecting • Checking and summarising • Discussion • Creative responses • Critical responses • Information exchange • Problem-solving • Deconstructing the listening text • Reconstructing the listening text
7	Preparation and planning	111
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The teacher as planner • Listening in the syllabus • Choosing and adapting published materials • Authentic materials: radio, film/TV, songs • Anticipating problems • Young learners • ESP (English for specific purposes) • Six essentials for planning listening lessons
8	Listening in the wider context	134
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Integrated listening • How to assess listening • Encouraging students to listen outside the classroom • Self-access and listening in the language lab • Teacher autonomy; becoming a better teacher of listening
	Task File	146
	Task File Key	165
	Chapter notes and further reading	178
	Glossary	184
	Index	190