

Psychology at the Movies

Skip Dine Young

Professor of Psychology, Hanover College, Indiana, USA

 WILEY-BLACKWELL

A John Wiley & Sons, Ltd., Publication

Contents

List of Illustrations and Figures	xii
Acknowledgments	xiii
1. Introduction—The Many Sides of Psychology and the Many Faces of the Movies	3
Goals of Psychology at the Movies	6
Story, Entertainment and Art in the Movies	9
A Liberal Use of Psychology	10
A Symbolic Framework for the Psychology of Film	12
Organization of Psychology at the Movies	14
Further Reading	16
2. The Search for Meaning—Psychological Interpretations in the Movies	19
Human Behavior in the Movies	21
Unconscious Conflict in the Movies	24
Archetypes in the Movies	28
Ideology in the Movies	30
Spectators in the Movies	33
Closing Shots: The Boons and Banes of Interpretation	37
Further Reading	39

3. Psychopathology, Psychotherapy and Psycho —Psychologists and Their Patients in the Movies	43
Representations of Psychological Disorders	44
Representations of Psychologists and Psychological Treatment	49
Closing Shots: The Impact of Representations of Psychology	55
Further Reading	60
4. Crazy Genius—The Psychology of Filmmakers	63
Psychobiography and Filmmakers	64
Auteurs: Profiles of Directors	65
Star-Gazing: Profiles of Actors	69
Psychology for Filmmakers: The Case of Woody Allen	73
Closing Shots: Evaluating Psychobiography	76
Further Reading	77
5. Picturing the Audience—Psychological Profiles of Moviegoers	81
Movie Audiences through the Years	83
The Movies People Watch	85
The Movies People Like	88
Closing Shots: The Viewers behind the Numbers	91
Further Reading	91
6. The Cinematic Moment—Emotions and the Comprehension of Movies	95
Cognitive Psychology and the Movies	96
The Perception of Movies	97
The Narrative Comprehension of Movies	99
The Emotional Comprehension of Movies	101
Brain Functioning and the Movies	107
Closing Shots: An Unlikely Partnership	109
Further Reading	110
7. Reflecting on the Screen—The Reception of Movies	113
Viewer Enjoyment of Movies	115
Viewer Interpretations of Movies	120
Closing Shots: The Challenges of Audience Response	126
Further Reading	127

8. The Movies Made Me Do It—The Effects of Film	131
Effects on Behavior	133
Effects on Thoughts and Emotions	139
Propaganda and Effects on Culture	143
Closing Shots: The Great Debate over Media Effects	145
Further Reading	149
9. Movies as Equipment for Living—The Functions of Film	153
Professional Functions of Movies	155
General Functions of Movies in Everyday Life	159
Personal Functions of Movies in Everyday Life	161
Closing Shots: Seeing Movies from a Different Angle	168
Further Reading	169
10. Conclusion—Putting the Pieces Together	173
An Appeal for Interdisciplinarity	177
Movies as Art	179
Appendix A: Mental Health Professionals in Top Box Office Grossing Movies, 1990–1999	181
Appendix B: Three Top 50 Lists of Acclaimed Movies	183
Appendix C: Emotionally Arousing Movie Scenes	187
Appendix D: Therapeutic Movies	189
Endnotes	191
Bibliography	219
Filmography	239
Index	249