Writing Research Papers

A Complete Guide

Sixteenth Edition

James D. Lester

James D. Lester, Jr.
Austin Peay State University

Pearson
330 Hudson Street, NY, NY 10013

Contents

Preface to the Instructor ix

1 Writing from Research 1

1a Why Do Research? 3
1b Learning the Conventions of Academic Writing 4
1c Understanding and Avoiding Plagiarism 5
1d Understanding a Research Assignment 6
- Understanding the Terminology 6
- Causal Argument 9
- Comparison, Including Analogy 9

1e Establishing a Research Schedule 10

2 Finding a Topic 12

2a Relating Your Personal Ideas to a Scholarly Problem 14
- Connecting Personal Experience to Scholarly Topics 15
- Speculating about Your Subject to Discover Ideas and to Focus on the Issues 16

2b Talking with Others to Refine the Topic 20
- Personal Interviews and Discussions 20
- Online Discussion Groups 20

2c Using Online Searches to Refine Your Topic 21
- Using an Online Subject Directory 21
- Using an Internet Keyword Search 22

2d Using the Library's Electronic Databases to Find and Narrow a Topic 23
2e Using the Library's Electronic Book Catalog to Find a Topic 23
2f Developing a Thesis Statement, Enthymeme, or Hypothesis 25
- Thesis 25
- Enthymeme 27
- Hypothesis 27

2g Drafting a Research Proposal 28
- The Short Proposal 28
- The Long Proposal 29

Charting Your Research Project 33

3 Organizing Ideas and Setting Goals 34

3a Using a Basic Order to Chart the Course of Your Work 35
3b Using Your Research Proposal to Direct Your Notetaking 35
3c Listing Key Terms and Phrases to Set Directions for Notetaking 36
3d Writing a Rough Outline 37
3e Using Questions to Identify Issues 38
3f Setting Goals by Using Organizational Patterns 38
3g Using Approaches across the Curriculum to Chart Your Ideas 39
3h Using Your Thesis to Chart the Direction of Your Research 40
- Arrangement by Issues 40
- Arrangement by Cause/Effect 40
- Arrangement by Interpretation and Evaluation 41
- Arrangement by Comparison 41

Charting Your Research Project 42

4 Gathering Sources Online 43

4a Beginning an Online Search 45
4b Reading an Online Address 48
4c Using Keyword and Boolean Expressions 49
- Subject Directory Search Engines 52
- Robot-Driven Search Engines 52
- Metasearch Engines 52
- Specialized Search Engines 52
- Educational Search Engines 52
- Educational Search Engines Maintained by Libraries 54

4d Using RSS and Social Bookmarking 55
- RSS Feeds 55
- Web 2.0 and Social Bookmarking 55

4e Searching for Articles in Journals and Magazines 57
Online Journals 57
Online Magazines 58
4f Searching for Articles in Newspapers and Media Sources 58
4g Searching for Photographs and Other Visual Sources 60
4h Accessing E-books 60
4i Using LISTSERV, Blogs, and Chat 61
E-mail News Groups 61
Real-Time Chatting 61
4j Examining Library Holdings via Online Access 61
4k Finding an Internet Bibliography 62
Search Engine 62
4l Conducting Archival Research on the Internet 63
Go to the Library 63
Go to an Edited Search Engine 63
Go to a Metasearch Engine 63
Go to a LISTSERV or Usenet Group 64
Utilize Newspaper Archives 65
Charting Your Research Project 65

5 Gathering Sources in the Library 66

5a Launching the Search 67
5b Developing a Working Bibliography 68
5c Finding Books on Your Topic 69
Using Your Library's Electronic Book Catalog 69
Using the Library's Bibliographies 70
5d Finding Articles in Magazines and Journals 72
Searching the General Indexes to Periodicals 72
Finding Indexes by Topic in the Appendix 76
Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature 76
Social Sciences Index 77
Humanities Index 77
Searching for an Index to Abstracts 77
Searching for Abstracts of Dissertations 79
5e Searching for a Biography 79
Biography Index 80
Current Biography Yearbook 80
Contemporary Authors 80
Dictionary of Literary Biography 80
5f Searching for Articles in Newspaper Indexes 80
5g Searching Special Subject Directories 81
5h Searching for Government Documents 82
5i Searching for Essays within Books 83
Charting Your Research Project 83

6 Conducting Field Research 85

6a Investigating Local Sources 86
Interviewing Knowledgeable People 86
Writing Letters and Corresponding by E-mail 87
Reading Personal Papers 88
Attending Lectures and Public Addresses 89
6b Investigating Government Documents 89
Local Government 89
State Government 89
Federal Government 89
6c Examining Audiovisual Materials, Television, and Radio 90
6d Conducting a Survey with a Questionnaire 91
6e Conducting Experiments, Tests, and Observation 94
Charting Your Research Project 95

7 Understanding and Avoiding Plagiarism 97

7a Using Sources to Enhance Your Credibility 98
7b Placing Your Work in Its Proper Context 99
7c Understanding Copyright 100
7d Avoiding Plagiarism 101
Common Knowledge 102
Correctly Borrowing from a Source 104
7e Sharing Credit in Collaborative Projects 107
7f Honoring and Crediting Sources in Online Classrooms 108
7g Seeking Permission to Publish Material on Your Website 109
Charting Your Research Project 110

8 Reading and Evaluating Sources 111

8a Finding Reliable Sources 111
8b Selecting a Mix of Primary and Secondary Sources 117
8c Evaluating Sources 118
Evaluating the Key Parts of an Article 118
Evaluating the Key Parts of a Book 120
Evaluating the Key Parts of an Internet Article 123
8d Outlining a Source 123
8e Summarizing a Source 125
8f Preparing an Annotated Bibliography 126
8g Preparing a Review of the Literature on a Topic 129
Charting Your Research Project 136

9 Writing Effective Notes and Creating Outlines 137

Gathering Printouts, Photocopies, Scanned Images, and Downloaded Data 138
9a Creating Effective Notes 138
Honoring the Conventions of Research Style 138
Using a Computer for Notetaking 139
9b Writing Personal Notes 139
9c Writing Direct Quotation Notes 141
Quoting Primary Sources 142
Quoting Secondary Sources 142
9d Writing Paraphrased Notes 143
9e Writing Summary Notes 146
9f Writing Précis Notes 148
Use the Précis to Review Briefly an Online Article 148
Use the Précis to Write an Annotated Bibliography 149
Use the Précis in a Plot Summary Note 149
Use the Précis as the Form for an Abstract 149
9g Writing Notes from Field Research 150
9h Creating Outlines Using Academic Models 151
A General All-Purpose Model 151
Model for Advancing Your Ideas and Theories 151
Model for the Analysis of Creative Works 152
Model for Argument and Persuasion Papers 152
Model for Analysis of History 153
Model for a Comparative Study 153
9i Writing a Formal Outline 154
Using Standard Outline Symbols 155
Writing a Formal Topic Outline 155
Writing a Formal Sentence Outline 156
Charting Your Research Project 157

10 Drafting the Paper in an Academic Style 158

10a Focusing Your Argument 159
Maintaining a Focus on Objective Facts and Subjective Ideas 160
10b Refining the Thesis Statement 160
Using Questions to Focus the Thesis 162
Adjust or Change Your Thesis During Research if Necessary 163
10c Writing an Academic Title 164
10d Drafting the Paper from Your Research Journal, Notes, and Computer Files 165
Writing from Your Notes 165
Writing with Unity and Coherence 166
Writing in the Proper Tense 166
Using the Language of the Discipline 167
Writing in the Third Person 168
Writing with the Passive Voice in an Appropriate Manner 169
10e Using Visuals Effectively in a Research Essay 169
File Formats 172
10f Avoiding Sexist and Biased Language 173
Charting Your Research Project 174

11 Blending Reference Material into Your Writing 175

11a Blending Reference Citations into Your Text 176
Making a General Reference without a Page Number 176
Beginning with the Author and Ending with a Page Number 176
Putting the Page Number Immediately after the Name 177

Putting the Name and Page Number at the End of Borrowed Material 177
11b Citing a Source When No Author Is Listed 178
Citing the Title of a Magazine Article 178
Citing the Title of a Report 179
Citing the Name of a Publisher or a Corporate Body 179
11c Citing Nonprint Sources That Have No Page Number 179
11d Citing Internet Sources 179
Identify the Source with Name or Title 179
Identify the Nature of the Information and Its Credibility 180
Omitting Page and Paragraph Numbers to Internet Citations 181
11e Citing Indirect Sources 182
11f Citing Frequent Page References to the Same Work 183
11g Citing Material from Textbooks and Large Anthologies 184
11h Adding Extra Information to In-Text Citations 185
One of Several Volumes 186
Two or More Works by the Same Writer 186
Several Authors in One Citation 187
Additional Information with the Page Number 187
11i Punctuating Citations Properly and Consistently 187
Commas and Periods 188
Semicolons and Colons 189
Question Marks and Exclamation Marks 189
Single Quotation Marks 190
11j Indenting Long Quotations 191
11k Citing Poetry 192
Quoting Three Lines of Poetry or Less 192
Quoting Four Lines of Poetry or More 193
Indenting Turnovers for Long Lines of Poetry 193
Retaining Internal Quotations within a Block 193
Providing Translations 194
11l Handling Quotations from a Play 194
11m Altering Initial Capitals in Quoted Matter 195
11n Omitting Quoted Matter with Ellipsis Points 195
11o Altering Quotations with Parentheses and Brackets 198
Parentheses 198
Brackets 199
Charting Your Research Project 200

12 Writing the Introduction, Body, and Conclusion 201

12a Writing the Introduction of the Research Paper 201
Provide the Thesis Statement 202
Provide the Enthymeme 202
Provide a Hypothesis 203
Relate to the Well Known 203
Provide Background Information 204
Review the Literature 204
Review the History and Background of the Subject 205
Take Exception to Critical Views 205
Challenge an Assumption 206
Provide a Brief Summary 206
Define Key Terms 207
Supply Data, Statistics, and Special Evidence 207
12b Writing the Body of the Research Paper 208
Organize by Chronology 208
Compare or Contrast Issues, Critical Views, and Literary Characters 209
Develop Cause and Effect 210
Define Your Key Terminology 210
Explain a Process 211
Ask Questions and Provide Answers 211
Cite Evidence from the Source Materials 212
Use a Variety of Other Methods 212
12c Writing the Conclusion of the Research Paper 213
Restate the Thesis and Reach beyond It 214
Close with an Effective Quotation 214
Return the Focus of a Literary Study to the Author 215

Compare the Past to the Present 215
Offer a Directive or Solution 216
Discuss Test Results and Limitations 216
Charting Your Research Project 217

13 Revising, Proofreading, and Formatting the Rough Draft 218

13a Conducting a Global Revision 219
Revising the Introduction 219
Revising the Body 219
Revising the Conclusion 219
Participating in Peer Review 220
13b Formatting the Paper to MLA Style 221
Title Page or Opening Page 221
Outline 222
Abstract 222
The Text of the Paper 223
Content Endnotes Page 223
Appendix 224
Works Cited 224
13c Editing before Typing or Printing the Final Manuscript 224
Using the Computer to Edit Your Text 224
13d Proofreading on the Screen and on the Printed Manuscript 225
Charting Your Research Project 226
13e Sample Papers in MLA Style 227
Short Literary Research Paper 227
Sample Research Paper 234

14 Works Cited: MLA Style 246

14a Formatting the Works Cited Page 247
14b Key Elements of the Works Cited List 251

15 Writing in APA Style 271

15a Writing Theory, Reporting Test Results, or Reviewing Literature 271
Theoretical Article 272
Report of an Empirical Study 272
Review Article 272
15b Writing in the Proper Tense for an APA Paper 273
15c Using In-Text Citations in APA Style 273
15d Preparing the List of References 279
Book 281
Periodical 282
Abstract 283
Review 283
Report 283
Nonprint Material 284
Sources Accessed Online 284
Article from a Library Database 288
CD-ROM 288
Encyclopedia Article 288
Full-Text Article 289
15e Formatting an APA Paper 289
Theoretical Paper 289
Report of Empirical Research 289
Review Article 290
15f Writing the Abstract 290
15g Sample Paper in APA Style 291

16 The Footnote System: CMS Style 299

16a Inserting a Superscript Numeral in Your Text 300
Writing Full or Abbreviated Notes 301
16b Formatting and Writing the Footnotes 302
16c Writing Footnotes for Electronic Sources 305
16d Writing Subsequent Footnote References 306
16e Writing Endnotes Rather Than Footnotes 307
16f Writing Content Footnotes or Content Endnotes 308
16g Using the Footnote System for Papers in the Humanities 310
16h Writing a Bibliography Page for a Paper That Uses Footnotes 311
16i Sample Research Paper in the CMS Style 312

17 CSE Style for the Natural and Applied Sciences 318

Guide by Discipline 319
17a Writing In-Text Citations Using the CSE Citation-Sequence System 320

17b Writing a References Page 321
17c Writing In-Text Citations with Name and Year 322
17d Using Name-Year with Bibliography Entries 324
Arranging the References List 326
17e Sample Paper Using the CSE Citation-Sequence System 327

18 Creating Electronic and Multimedia Research Projects 334

18a Beginning the Digital Project 335
18b Building Digital Presentations 335
18c Research Project Websites 336
Creating a Single Web Page 336
Importing, Entering, and Modifying Text 337
Citing Your Sources in a Web-Based Research Paper 337
18d Using Graphics in Your Electronic Research Paper 337
Graphic File Formats 338
Creating Your Own Digital Graphics 338
18e Using Sound and Video in Your Electronic Research Paper 338
18f Preparing a Writing Portfolio 339
18g Presenting Research in Alternative Formats 341
Charting Your Research Project 342

Glossary 343
Appendix 353
Index 364