

Community Development for Social Change

Dave Beck and Rod Purcell

Contents

About This Book	viii
Structure of the Book	ix
List of Contributors	xi
Acknowledgements	xv
SECTION 1
The Context of Community Development Work	1
1.1 Values and Purpose of Community Development	3
1.2 Social Change	9
1.3 Human Rights: A Framework for Action	17
1.4 Anti-Oppressive Practice	23
1.5 A Globalised and Changing World: The Local Impact	30
1.6 Living under Neo-Liberalism: Challenges and Opportunities	36
1.7 Community Development in the UK and How We Got Here	43
SECTION 2
Underpinning Theories	49
2.1 What is Community?	51
2.2 Gramsci/Hegemony and the Nature of Power	55
2.3 Freire and Critical Consciousness	64
2.4 Space and Everyday Life in Communities	71

SECTION 3
Models of Practice	77
3.1 Overview of Current Practice	79
3.2 Direct Action	85
3.3 Community Organising	89
3.4 Slum Dwellers International	94
3.5 Freire and Popular Education	99
3.6 Asset-Based Community Development and Social Capital	108
3.7 Integrated Models of Practice	113
SECTION 4
Practice Issues for Community Development Work	119
4.1 Understanding the Community: Psychogeography and PhotoVoice	121
4.2 Promoting Empowerment	126
4.3 Community Capacity Building and Human Capability	135
4.4 Building Community Resilience	139
4.5 Leadership in the Community	144
4.6 Working with Groups	148
4.7 Evaluating Your Practice	155
SECTION 5
Case Studies of Practice	163
5.1 A Statement of Hope, by Andy Turner	165
5.2 Community Impact of an Australian Aboriginal Art Centre, by Trudi Cooper	173
5.3 Popular Education and Neighbourhood Centre Work, by P. J. Humphreys and Peter Westoby	181

5.4	Spinning Rubbish into Gold: A Community Development Route to Environmental Social Enterprise, by John Stansfield	189
5.5	Play Sufficiency as an Organising Principle of Community Development, by Ben Tawil and Mike Barclay	198
5.6	Creative Nottingham North: Arts-based Community Development, by Frances Howard	207
5.7	When Young People, Resident Artists and Curators Work Collaboratively on a Community Arts Project, by Tina Salter	213
5.8	The 'JOY' Project, by Clive Sealey, Ruth Jones, Joanne Lewis and Danny Gregory	219
5.9	Show Racism the Red Card, by Luke Campbell and Nicola Hay	227
5.10	The Bengali Women's Programme 2011–2014, by Rick Gwilt and Rehana Begum	236
5.11	Developing a New Generation of BAME Community-based Leaders: Lessons from an Ongoing Journey, by Yvonne Field	246
5.12	'Peas & Love'. A Case Study in Kindness and the Power of Small Actions: Incredible Edible, Todmorden, by Martin Purcell	256
SECTION 6
	Summing Up	263
6.1	What Community Development Can Achieve	265
6.2	The Journey of Community Development	266
6.3	Statement of Hope	268
	Index	269