

---

Ethics of Hospitality

---

Daniel Innerarity

Translated from the Spanish by Stephen Williams and
Serge Champeau

---

Contents

---

Taking care of others	1
PART I
The domain of receiving	9
1 The pathetic, or the duty of events	11
A critique of pure action	11
Unpredictable existence	14
Lucky freedom	17
The ethics of vulnerable life	23
2 Accepting people: identity and the commitment to hospitality	28
The society of individuals	29
The disadvantages of being ourselves	32
The identity of those who can promise	35
Distance from ourselves and learning disappointment	38
3 The moral spectacle: the importance of absentees	42
The murmur of ghosts	43
The principle of the included middle	48
Consciousness as a space of interlocution	53
4 The fortune of the good life and the scandalous resemblance between happiness and fortune	57
The tension between the good life and living well	58
The fragility of human good	63
The dialectics of the lucky instant	67
Happiness as lucky morality	70

5 Homo brevis: the ethics of duration, fatigue and of the end	74
The temporal condition of man	75
Beginnings and ends that are not really so	77
The anthropological aspect of fatigue	82
6 The meaning of everyday life: particularities of guests, or uselessly waiting for the universal	89
Against the sensationalism of meaning	90
The value of prosaic life	94
PART II
Dimensions of piety	99
7 Xenology: prolegomena in understanding the other	101
The nature of otherness	102
The difficulty of taking charge of others	105
The experience of the other	108
8 Liberality: the virtue of pluralism	115
The new heterogeneity	116
Inevitable particularity and possible universality	118
Beyond tolerance	122
The political benefits of liberality	126
9 The time of others: human plurality as temporal diversity	129
The other as a temporal category	129
The experience of temporal alterity	131
Acceleration and privatization of time	134
The coordination of times	136
Time as freedom	137
10 The ethics and aesthetics of the natural	141
Natural beauty and the good life	142
The sublime and its surroundings	148
11 Poetics of compassion: the comprehension of the incomprehensible	154
Forbidden compassion	155
The dignity of palliatives	159
Index	163