Ninth Edition

SERVICES MARKETING

People Technology Strategy

Jochen Wirtz
Christopher Lovelock

World Scientific
NEW JERSEY • LONDON • SINGAPORE • BEIJING • SHANGHAI • HONG KONG • TAIPEI • CHENNAI • TOKYO

Services Marketing:
People, Technology, Strategy

Brief Contents

About the Authors xiii
Preface xiv
Acknowledgments xvi

PART I: UNDERSTANDING SERVICE PRODUCTS, MARKETS, AND CUSTOMERS 2

1. Creating Value in the Service Economy 4
2. Understanding Service Consumers 40
3. Positioning Services in Competitive Markets 76

PART II: APPLYING THE 4 PS OF MARKETING TO SERVICES 104

4. Developing Service Products and Brands 106
5. Distributing Services Through Physical and Electronic Channels 138
6. Service Pricing and Revenue Management 172
7. Service Marketing Communications 210

PART III: MANAGING THE CUSTOMER INTERFACE 258

8. Designing Service Processes 260
9. Balancing Demand and Capacity 302
10. Crafting the Service Environment 328
11. Managing People for Service Advantage 358

PART IV: DEVELOPING CUSTOMER RELATIONSHIPS 404

12. Managing Relationships and Building Loyalty 406
13. Complaint Handling and Service Recovery 442

PART V: STRIVING FOR SERVICE EXCELLENCE 476

14. Improving Service Quality and Productivity 478
15. Building a World-Class Service Organization 520

PART VI: CASE STUDIES 546

Name Index 640
Subject Index 654

Contents

About the Authors xiii
Preface xiv
Acknowledgements xvi

PART I: UNDERSTANDING SERVICE PRODUCTS, MARKETS, AND CUSTOMERS 2

1. Creating Value in the Service Economy 4
    - Opening Vignette 5
        - Introduction to the World of Services Marketing 5
    - Why Study Services? 7
        - Services Dominate the Global Economy 7
        - Most New Jobs are Generated by Services 8
        - Understanding Services Offers Personal Competitive Advantage 9
    - What are the Principal Industries of the Service Sector? 11
        - Contribution to Gross Domestic Product 11
    - Powerful Forces are Transforming Service Markets 12
    - Business-to-Business Services as a Core Engine of Economic Development 14
    - Outsourcing and Offshoring Often Work in Tandem 15
    - What are Services? 16
        - The Historical View 16
        - Benefits Without Ownership 16
        - Defining Services 18
        - Service Products versus Customer Service and After-Sales Service 18
    - Four Broad Categories of Services — A Process Perspective 19
        - People Processing 19
        - Possession Processing 20
        - Mental Stimulus Processing 21
        - Information Processing 22
    - Services Pose Distinct Marketing Challenges 22
    - The 7 Ps of Services Marketing 24
    - The Traditional Marketing Mix Applied to Services 24
        - Product Elements 24
        - Place and Time 25
        - Price and Other User Outlays 26
        - Promotion and Education 26
    - The Extended Services Marketing Mix for Managing the Customer Interface 27
        - Process 27
        - Physical Environment 28
        - People 28
    - Marketing Must be Integrated with Other Management Functions 28
    - The Service-Profit Chain 30
    - A Framework for Developing Effective Service Marketing Strategies 31
    - Conclusion 32

2. Understanding Service Consumers 40
    - Opening Vignette 41
        - Susan Munro, Service Consumer 41
    - The Three-Stage Model of Service Consumption 42
    - Prepurchase Stage 42
        - Need Awareness 42
        - Information Search 42
        - Evaluation of Alternative Services 42
        - Purchase Decision 52
    - Service Encounter Stage 53
        - Service Encounters are “Moments of Truth” 53
        - Service Encounters Range from High Contact to Low Contact 54
        - The Servuction System 55

- Theater as Metaphor for Service Delivery 57
- Role and Script Theories 58
- Perceived Control Theory 60

Post-Encounter Stage 61
- Customer Satisfaction 61
- Service Quality 63
- Customer Loyalty 65

Conclusion 68

3. Positioning Services in Competitive Markets 76

Opening Vignette 77
- Positioning a Chain of Childcare Centers Away from the Competition 77

Customer-Driven Services Marketing Strategy 78
- Customer, Competitor, and Company Analysis (3 Cs) 78
- Segmentation, Targeting, and Positioning (STP) 80

Segmenting Service Markets 81
- Important versus Determinant Service Attributes 82
- Segmentation Based on Service Levels 83

Targeting Service Markets 84
- Achieving Competitive Advantage Through Focus 84

Principles of Positioning Services 89

Using Positioning Maps to Plot Competitive Strategy 90
- An Example of Applying Positioning Maps to the Hotel Industry 90
- Mapping Future Scenarios to Identify Potential Competitive Responses 92
- Positioning Charts Help Executives Visualize Strategy 94

Positioning Digital Services and Platforms 94
- Attributes of Digital Service Available for Positioning 94
- Ecosystem Orchestration and Governance 96
- Direct and Indirect Network Effects 96

Developing an Effective Positioning Strategy 98

Conclusion 99

PART II: APPLYING THE 4 PS OF MARKETING TO SERVICES 104

4. Developing Service Products and Brands 106

Opening Vignette 107

Understanding Service Products 107
- What is a Service Product? 108
- What are the Benefits of Well-Developed Service Products? 108
- Creating Service Products 110

The Flower of Service 110
- Facilitating Supplementary Services 111
- Enhancing Supplementary Services 114
- Managing the Flower of Service 118

Branding Services 119
- Service Brand Architecture at the Corporate Level 119
- Branding Service Products and Experiences 121
- Branding Service Levels — Service Tiering 123
- Building Brand Equity 124
- Delivering Branded Service Experiences 125

New Service Development 125
- A Hierarchy of New Service Categories 126
- Design Thinking in New Service Development 130
- Achieving Success in New Service Development 130

Conclusion 131

5. Distributing Services Through Physical and Electronic Channels 138

Opening Vignette 139
- Being Global in an Instant? … Or Does It Take Forever? 139

Distribution in a Services Context 140

What is Being Distributed? 140

How Should a Service be Distributed? 140

- Customers Visit the Service Site 142
- Service Providers Go to Their Customers 142
- The Service Transaction is Conducted Remotely 143
- Channel Preferences Vary Among Customers 146
- Channel Integration is Key 147

Where Should a Service Facility be Located? 148

- Strategic Location Considerations 148
- Tactical Location Considerations 148
- Locational Constraints 149
- Innovative Location Strategies 150

When Should Service be Delivered? 151

The Role of Intermediaries 153

- Benefits and Costs of Alternative Distribution Channels 153
- Franchising 155
- Other Intermediaries 157

The Challenge of Distribution in Large Domestic Markets 157

Distributing Services Internationally 158

- Factors Favoring Adoption of Transnational Strategies 158
- How Does the Nature of a Service Affect International Distribution? 161
- Barriers to International Trade in Services 162
- How to Enter International Markets? 164

Conclusion 165

6. Service Pricing and Revenue Management 172

Opening Vignette 173

- Dynamic Pricing is Here to Stay 173

Effective Pricing is Central to Financial Success 174

- Objectives for Establishing Prices 174

Pricing Strategy Stands on Three Foundations 174

- Cost-Based Pricing 177
- Value-Based Pricing 179
- Reducing Related Monetary and Nonmonetary Costs 180
- Competition-Based Pricing 182

Revenue Management: What It is and How It Works 184

- Reserving Capacity for High-Yield Customers 185
- How Can We Measure the Effectiveness of a Firm's Revenue Management? 187
- How Does Competitors' Pricing Affect Revenue Management? 187
- Price Elasticity 187
- Designing Rate Fences 188

Fairness and Ethical Concerns in Service Pricing 190

- Service Pricing is Complex 192
- Piling on the Fees 193
- Designing Fairness into Revenue Management 195

Putting Service Pricing into Practice 197

- How Much to Charge? 197
- What Should be the Specified Basis for Pricing? 197
- Who Should Collect Payment and Where Should Payment be Made? 201
- When Should Payment be Made? 201
- How Should Payment be Made? 202
- How Should Prices be Communicated to the Target Markets? 204

Conclusion 204

7. Service Marketing Communications 210

Opening Vignette 211

- Oscar is Having the Time of His Life 211

Integrated Service Marketing Communications 212

Defining the Target Audience 214

Specifying Service Communication Objectives 214

- Strategic Service Communication Objectives 214
- Tactical Service Communication Objectives 215
- Promote Tangible Cues to Communicate Quality 217

Crafting Effective Service Communication Messages 218

- Problems of Intangibility 219
- Overcoming the Problems of Intangibility 220

The Service Marketing Communications Mix 223
- Service Communications Media and Their Effectiveness 223
- Communications Originate from Different Sources 225
- Messages Transmitted Through Traditional Marketing Channels 225
- Messages Transmitted Online 229
- Messages Transmitted Through Service Delivery Channels 235
- Messages Originating from Outside the Organization 238

Timing Decisions of Service Marketing Communications 243
Budget Decisions and Program Evaluation 243
Ethical and Consumer Privacy Issues in Communications 244
The Role of Corporate Design 246
Integrated Marketing Communications 247
Conclusion 248

PART III: MANAGING THE CUSTOMER INTERFACE 258

8. Designing Service Processes 260

Opening Vignette 261
- Redesigning Customer Service in a Small Hospital Practice 261
- The Redesigned Service Model 261

What is a Service Process? 262
Designing and Documenting Service Processes 262
Developing a Service Blueprint 265
Blueprinting the Restaurant Experience: A Three-Act Performance 266
- Identifying Fail Points 272
- Fail-Proofing to Design Fail Points Out of Service Processes 273
- Setting Service Standards and Targets 274
- Consumer Perceptions and Emotions in Service Process Design 275

Service Process Redesign 276
- Service Process Redesign Should Improve Both Quality and Productivity 277

Customer Participation in Service Processes 278
- Levels of Customer Participation 280
- Customers as Service Co-Creators 280
- Reducing Service Failures Caused by Customers 281

Self-Service Technologies, Service Robots, and Artificial Intelligence 282
- Customer Benefits and Adoption of Self-Service Technology 283
- Customer Disadvantages and Barriers of Adoption of Self-Service Technology 285
- Assessing and Improving Self-Service Technologies 285
- Managing Customers' Reluctance to Change 286

Service Robots in the Frontline 287
- Beginning of the Service Revolution 287
- What are Service Robots and How Do They Differ from Traditional Self-Service Technologies? 288
- What Services Will Robots Deliver? 289

Conclusion 293

9. Balancing Demand and Capacity 302

Opening Vignette 303
- Summer on the Ski Slopes 303

Fluctuations in Demand Threaten Profitability 303
- From Excess Demand to Excess Capacity 303
- Building Blocks of Managing Capacity and Demand 304

Defining Productive Service Capacity 306
Managing Capacity 307
- Stretching Capacity Levels 307
- Adjusting Capacity to Match Demand 308

Understand Patterns of Demand 309
Managing Demand 311
- Marketing Mix Elements Can be Used to Shape Demand Patterns 312

Inventory Demand Through Waiting Lines and Queuing Systems 314
- Waiting is a Universal Phenomenon 314

- Managing Waiting Lines 315
- Different Queue Configurations 315
- Virtual Waits 318
- Queuing Systems Can be Tailored to Market Segments 319

Customer Perceptions of Waiting Time 319
- The Psychology of Waiting Time 319

Inventory Demand Through Reservation Systems 321
- Reservation Strategies Should Focus on Yield 322

Create Alternative Use for Otherwise Wasted Capacity 323

Conclusion 323

10. Crafting the Service Environment 328

Opening Vignette 329
- The Guggenheim Museum in Bilbao 329

Service Environments — An Important Element of the Services Marketing Mix 330

What is the Purpose of Service Environments? 330
- Shape Customers' Service Experiences and Behaviors 330
- Signal Quality and Position, Differentiate, and Strengthen the Brand 330
- Core Component of the Value Proposition 333
- Facilitate the Service Encounter and Enhance Productivity 334

The Theory Behind Consumer Responses to Service Environments 335
- Feelings are a Key Driver of Customer Responses to Service Environments 335
- The Servicescape Model — An Integrative Framework 337

Dimensions of the Service Environment 338
- The Effect of Ambient Conditions 339
- Music 339
- Scent 341
- Color 342
- Spatial Layout and Functionality 345
- Signs, Symbols, and Artifacts 345
- People are Part of the Service Environment Too 347

Putting It All Together 348
- Design with a Holistic View 348
- Design from a Customer's Perspective 350
- Tools to Guide Servicescape Design 352

Conclusion 352

11. Managing People for Service Advantage 358

Opening Vignette 359
- Cora Griffith — The Outstanding Waitress 359

Service Employees are Extremely Important 360
- Service Personnel as a Source of Customer Loyalty and Competitive Advantage 360
- The Frontline in Low-Contact Services 362

Frontline Work is Difficult and Stressful 363
- Service Jobs are Boundary Spanning Positions 363
- Sources of Role Conflict and Role Stress 364
- Emotional Labor 365
- Service Sweatshops? 366

Cycles of Failure, Mediocrity, and Success 368
- The Cycle of Failure 368
- The Cycle of Mediocrity 371
- The Cycle of Success 372

Human Resources Management — How to Get It Right? 373
- Hire the Right People 374
- Tools to Identify the Best Candidates 375
- Train Service Employees Actively 379
- Internal Communications to Shape the Service Culture and Behaviors 382
- Empower the Frontline 382
- Build High-Performance Service-Delivery Teams 384
- Integrate Teams Across Departments and Functional Areas 387
- Motivate and Energize People 388
- The Role of Labor Unions 390

Service Culture, Climate, and Leadership 391
- Building a Service-Oriented Culture 391
- A Climate for Service 391
- Qualities of Effective Leaders in Service Organizations 392
- Leadership Styles, Focus on the Basics, and Role Modeling 392
- Focusing the Entire Organization on the Frontline 393

Conclusion 395

PART IV: DEVELOPING CUSTOMER RELATIONSHIPS 404

12. Managing Relationships and Building Loyalty 406

Opening Vignette 407
- Caesars Entertainment's Customer Relationship Management 407

The Search for Customer Loyalty 407
- Why is Customer Loyalty so Important to a Firm's Profitability? 409
- Assessing the Value of a Loyal Customer 411
- Worksheet for Calculating Customer Lifetime Value 412
- The Gap Between Actual and Potential Customer Value 413
- Why are Customers Loyal? 413

The Wheel of Loyalty 414

Building a Foundation for Loyalty 414
- Target the Right Customers 414
- Search for Value, Not Just Volume 416
- Manage the Customer Base Through Effective Tiering of Service 418
- Customer Satisfaction and Service Quality are Prerequisites for Loyalty 420

Strategies for Developing Loyalty Bonds with Customers 421
- Deepen the Relationship 422
- Encourage Loyalty Through Financial and Nonfinancial Rewards 422
- Build Higher-Level Bonds 425

Strategies for Reducing Customer Switching 427
- Analyze Customer Switching and Monitor Declining Accounts 427
- Address Key Churn Drivers 427
- Implement Effective Complaint Handling and Service Recovery Procedures 428
- Increase Switching Costs 428

Enablers of Customer Loyalty Strategies 429
- Customer Loyalty in a Transactional Marketing Context 429
- Relationship Marketing 429
- Creating "Membership-Type" Relationships as Enablers for Loyalty Strategies 429

Customer Relationship Management 431
- Common Objectives of CRM Systems 431
- What Does a Comprehensive CRM Strategy Include? 432
- Common Failures in CRM Implementation 434
- How to Get a CRM Implementation Right 435

Conclusion 435

13. Complaint Handling and Service Recovery 442

Opening Vignette 443
- Too Little, Too Late — Jet Blue's Service Recovery 443

Customer Complaining Behavior 444
- Customer Response Options to Service Failure 444
- Understanding Customer Complaining Behavior 446
- What Do Customers Expect Once They Have Made a Complaint? 448

Customer Responses to Effective Service Recovery 448
- Impact of Effective Service Recovery on Customer Loyalty 449
- The Service Recovery Paradox 449

Principles of Effective Service Recovery Systems 450
- Make It Easy for Customers to Give Feedback 450
- Enable Effective Service Recovery 451
- How Generous Should Compensation be? 452
- Dealing with Complaining Customers 453

Service Guarantees 456
- The Power of Service Guarantees 456
- How to Design Service Guarantees 457

- Is Full Satisfaction the Best You Can Guarantee? 458
- Is It Always Beneficial to Introduce a Service Guarantee? 458

Discouraging Abuse and Opportunistic Customer Behavior 459

- Seven Types of Jaycustomers 459
- Consequences of Dysfunctional Customer Behavior 465
- Dealing with Customer Fraud 465

Conclusion 468

PART V: STRIVING FOR SERVICE EXCELLENCE 476

14. Improving Service Quality and Productivity 478

Opening Vignette 479

- Improving Service Quality in a Ferry Company 479

Integrating Service Quality and Productivity Strategies 480

- Service Quality, Productivity, and Profitability 480

What is Service Quality? 482

Identifying and Correcting Service Quality Problems 483

- The Gaps Model in Service Design and Delivery 483
- How to Close Service Quality Gaps? 484

Measuring Service Quality 486

- Soft and Hard Service Quality Measures 486

Learning From Customer Feedback 487

- Key Objectives of Effective Customer Feedback System 487
- Use a Mix of Customer Feedback Collection Tools 489
- Analysis, Reporting, and Dissemination of Customer Feedback 493

Hard Measures of Service Quality 494

Tools to Analyze and Address Service Quality Problems 496

- Root Cause Analysis: The Fishbone Diagram 496
- Pareto Analysis 498
- Blueprinting — A Powerful Tool for Identifying Fail Points 499

Return On Quality 499

- Assess Costs and Benefits of Quality Initiatives 500
- Determine the Optimal Level of Reliability 501

Defining and Measuring Productivity 501

- Defining Productivity in a Service Context 502
- Measuring Productivity 502
- Service Productivity, Efficiency, and Effectiveness 503

Improving Service Productivity 503

- Generic Productivity Improvement Strategies 503
- Customer-Driven Approaches to Improve Productivity 505
- How Productivity Improvements Impact Quality and Value 506

Integration and Systematic Approaches to Improving Service Quality and Productivity 508

- Total Quality Management 508
- ISO 9000 Certification 508
- Six Sigma 508
- Malcolm-Baldrige and European Foundation for Quality Management Approaches 510
- Which Approach Should a Firm Adopt? 512

Conclusion 513

15. Building a World-Class Service Organization 520

Introduction 521

Customer Satisfaction and Corporate Performance 522

Customer Satisfaction and the Wallet Allocation Rule 523

Creating a World-Class Service Organization 525

- From Losers to Leaders: Four Levels of Service Performance 525
- Moving to a Higher Level of Performance 530

Cost-Effective Service Excellence 531

- Dual Culture Strategy 531
- Operations Management Approach 537
- Focused Service Factory Strategy 538
- Business Models Based on Cost-Effective Service Excellence Pathways 539

Conclusion 540

PART VI: CASE STUDIES 546
Case 1 Sullivan Ford Auto World 548
Case 2 Dr. Beckett's Dental Office 549
Case 3 Digital Luxury Services: Tradition versus Innovation in Luxury Fashion 550
Case 4 Uber's Unintended Burdens 553
Case 5 Kiwi Experience 559
Case 6 Revenue Management at The View 560
Case 7 The Accra Beach Hotel: Block Booking of Capacity During a Peak Period 564
Case 8 Aussie Pooch Mobile 565
Case 9 Service Robots in the Frontline: How Will Aarion Bank's Customers Respond? 566
Case 10 Shouldice Hospital Limited (Abridged) 571
Case 11 Singapore Airlines: Managing Human Resources for Cost-Effective Service Excellence 580
Case 12 National Library Board Singapore: Delivering Cost-Effective Service Excellence Through Innovation and People 589
Case 13 Menton Bank 590
Case 14 Starbucks: Delivering Customer Service 591
Case 15 Platform versus Pipeline Business Models: Are Airbnb and Marriott Right to Move into Each Other's Turf? 606
Case 16 Dr. Mahalee Goes to London: Global Client Management 609
Case 17 The Royal Dining Membership Program Dilemma 610
Case 18 What Drives Share of Streaming Video? The Launch of HBO Max 611
Case 19 LUX*: Staging a Service Revolution in a Resort Chain 624

Name Index 640
Subject Index 654