ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I'd like to thank my partner, Ngo Duc Thang, for his endless support and patience—without him, nothing would be possible.

I am eternally grateful to my publisher, Maggie Hamilton, a friend and teacher who saw my possibilities.

Many people in Vietnam extended so much kindness and friendship: Kien N, my brother and best friend; the other Kien, who knows who he is; Sister Truth, who tests me and makes demands that strengthen me.

And Thich Nhat Hanh, truly a bodhisattva, whose gentle wisdom has informed my life and spiritual vision for twenty years.

Jan Cornall, one of the great writing teachers and a fascinating person to boot, inspired this book originally.

Finally I'd like to acknowledge Michael Dash and Justine Lee, who have been waiting for this book since 1996, and asking for it constantly. Thanks for your patience and persistence.
