

Communication skills for effective management

Owen Hargie, David Dickson and Dennis Tourish

palgrave
macmillan

Contents

Preface	vi
1	The world of the communicative manager 1
2	It's not what you say ...: communicating nonverbally 35
3	They could be persuaded: using your managerial influence 64
4	Let's get together: teams at work 96
5	Steering the way: leading meetings that work 120
6	That silver-tongued devil ...: making presentations matter 147
7	We can work it out: negotiating and bargaining 175
8	Will they buy it? Why managers must be able to sell 208
9	Calling all organisations: the business of the telephone 234
10	Writing matters: how to create the write impression 259
11	Tell it like it is ...: communicating assertively 286
12	What's your problem? Helping in the workplace 317
13	The war for talent: selection skills for busy managers 346
14	Feedback time: performance appraisal and management 373
15	Following the correct path: the guiding lights of ethics and audits 405
References	436
Index	482