I would like to recognize the love and affection of my wife, son, and daughter in the writing of the book. My nine-year-old daughter kept telling me, "Dad, you are a writer." It was very inspiring for my writing. My son is always inspiring to me. I would like to express my sincere thanks to Michelle Chen, my editor at Palgrave Macmillan, for accepting the proposed research. I would also like to acknowledge the help of John Stegner, editorial assistant at Palgrave Macmillan, for his continuous help and support during the writing of this book.
