
Max De Pree

LEADERSHIP Is an ART

CURRENCY

DOUBLEDAY

New York London Toronto Sydney Auckland

CONTENTS

Preface by Max De Pree	vii
Foreword: History, Leadership, and a Vision for Corporate Life	xiii
Introduction	1
The Millwright Died	7
What Is Leadership?	11
Participative Premises	23
Theory Fastball	31
Roving Leadership	45
Intimacy	53
Whither Capitalism?	63
Giant Tales	73
Tribal Storytelling	81
Who Owns This Place?	93

CONTENTS

Communicate!	101
Pink Ice in the Urinal	109
What's Next?	113
Some Thoughts for CEOs Who Build Buildings	121
To Make One Vice President, Mix Well . . .	129
Why Should I Weep?	135
The Marks of Elegance	141
Postscript	147