PART I An Introduction to Educational Research 1

1 Chapter The Process of Conducting Research Using Quantitative and Qualitative Approaches 2

A Definition of Research and Its Importance 3

Research Adds to Our Knowledge 4 • Research Improves Practice 4 • Research Informs Policy Debates 6 • Several Problems with Research Today 6

The Six Steps in the Process of Research 7

Identifying a Research Problem 8 • Reviewing the Literature 8 • Specifying a Purpose for Research 9 • Collecting Data 9 • Analyzing and Interpreting the Data 10 • Reporting and Evaluating Research 10

The Characteristics of Quantitative and Qualitative Research in Each of the Six Steps 11

Quantitative Research Characteristics 13 • Qualitative Research Characteristics 16 • Similarities and Differences between Quantitative and Qualitative Research 19 • Research Designs Associated with Quantitative and Qualitative Research 20

Important Ethical Issues in Conducting Research 22

Institutional Review Boards 22 • Professional Associations 23 • Ethical Practices throughout the Research Process 23 • Some Ethical Issues in Data Collection 23 • Some Ethical Issues in Data Reporting 24

Skills Needed to Design and Conduct Research 24

Solving Puzzles 25 • Lengthening Your Attention Span 25 • Learning to Use Library Resources 25 • Writing, Editing, and More Writing 25

Key Ideas in the Chapter 26

The Definition and Importance of Educational Research 26 • The Six Steps in the Process of Research 26 • The Characteristics of Quantitative and Qualitative Research 26 • The Types of Research Designs Associated with Quantitative and Qualitative Research 26 • The Important Ethical Issues 27 • The Skills Needed to Design and Conduct Research 27

Useful Information for Producers of Research 27

Useful Information for Consumers of Research 27

Understanding Concepts and Evaluating Research Studies 28

Sample Quantitative Study 29

Sample Qualitative Study 42

PART II The Steps in the Process of Research 57

2 Chapter Identifying a Research Problem 58

What Is a Research Problem and Why Is It Important? 59

How Does the Research Problem Differ from Other Parts of Research? 59

Can and Should Problems Be Researched? 61

Can You Gain Access to People and Sites? 61 • Can You Find Time, Locate Resources, and Use Your Skills? 61 • Should the Problem Be Researched? 62

How Does the Research Problem Differ in Quantitative and Qualitative Research? 63

How Do You Write a “Statement of the Problem” Section? 64

The Topic 64 • The Research Problem 66 • Justification of the Importance of the Problem 66 • Deficiencies in What We Know 69 • The Audience 70

What Are Some Strategies for Writing the “Statement of the Problem” Section? 70

A Template 70 • Other Writing Strategies 71 • Think-Aloud About Writing a “Statement of the Problem” 72

Examples of “Statement of the Problem” Sections 72
 Reexamining the Parent Involvement and the Mothers’
 Trust in School Principals Studies 75

Key Ideas in the Chapter 76

Define a Research Problem and Explain Its Importance 76 • Distinguish between a Research Problem and Other Parts of Research 76 • Criteria for Deciding Whether a Problem Can and Should Be Researched 76 • The Difference between Quantitative and Qualitative Research Problems 76 • The Five Elements of a “Statement of the Problem” Section 76 • Strategies Useful in Writing the “Statement of the Problem” Section 76

Useful Information for Producers of Research 77

Useful Information for Consumers of Research 77

Understanding Concepts and Evaluating Research Studies 77

Conducting Your Research 78

3 Chapter Reviewing the Literature 79

What Is a Literature Review and Why Is It Important? 80
How Does the Literature Review Differ for Quantitative and Qualitative Studies? 80

What Are the Five Steps in Conducting a Literature Review? 81

Identify Key Terms 82 • Locate Literature 82 • Critically Evaluate and Select the Literature 91 • Organize the Literature 92 • Write a Literature Review 98

Reexamining the Parent Involvement and the Mothers’
 Trust in Principals Studies 104

Literature Review Analysis in a Quantitative Study 104 • Literature Review Analysis in a Qualitative Study 104

Key Ideas in the Chapter 105

What Is a Review of the Literature and Why Is It Important? 105 • The Five Steps in Conducting a Literature Review 105

Useful Information for Producers of Research 106

Useful Information for Consumers of Research 107

Understanding Concepts and Evaluating Research Studies 107

Conducting Your Research 107

4 Chapter Specifying a Purpose and Research Questions or Hypotheses 109

What Are Purpose Statements, Research Questions, Hypotheses, and Objectives? 109

The Purpose Statement 110 • Research Questions 110 • Hypotheses 111 • Research Objectives 111

Why Are These Statements and Questions Important? 112

How Do You Design Quantitative Purpose Statements, Research Questions, and Hypotheses? 112

Specify Variables 112 • The Family of Variables 114 • Think-Aloud About Identifying Variables? 119 • Theories and Testing of Variables 120 • Writing Quantitative Purpose Statements 122 • Writing Quantitative Research Questions 124 • Writing Quantitative Hypotheses 125

How Do You Design Qualitative Purpose Statements and Research Questions? 128

Differentiating between Quantitative and Qualitative Purpose Statements and Research Questions 128

The Central Phenomenon in Qualitative Research 129

Emerging Processes in Qualitative Research 130 • Writing Qualitative Purpose Statements 131 • Writing Qualitative Research Questions 132

Reexamining the Parent Involvement and Mothers’ Trust in Principals Studies 136

Key Ideas in the Chapter 136

Distinguish among Purpose Statements, Research Questions, Hypotheses, and Objectives 136 • Know Why These Statements and Questions Are Important 137 • Write Quantitative Purpose Statements, Research Questions, and Hypotheses 137 • Write Qualitative Purpose Statements and Research Questions 137

Useful Information for Producers of Research 137

Useful Information for Consumers of Research 138

Understanding Concepts and Evaluating Research Studies 138

Conducting Your Research 139

5 Chapter Collecting Quantitative Data 140

Five Steps in the Process of Data Collection 140

What Participants Will You Study? 141

Identify Your Unit of Analysis 141 • Specify the Population and Sample 141

What Permissions Will You Need? 147

Obtain Different Types of Permissions 147 • Obtain Informed Consent 148

What Information Will You Collect? 150

Specify Variables from Research Questions and Hypotheses 150 • Operationally Define Each

Variable 151 • Choose Types of Data and Measures 151

What Instrument Will You Use to Collect Data? 157

Locate or Develop an Instrument 157 • Search for an Instrument 157 • Criteria for Choosing a Good Instrument 158 • Interval/Ratio Scales 167 • Think-Along About Finding and Selecting an Instrument 167

How Will You Administer the Data Collection? 169

Standardization 169 • Ethical Issues 169

Reexamining the Quantitative Parent Involvement Study 170

Key Ideas in the Chapter 170

State the Five Steps in the Process of Quantitative Data Collection 170 • Identify How to Select Participants for a Study 171 • Identify the Permissions Needed for a Study 171 • List Different Options for Collecting Information 171 • Locate, Select, and Assess an Instrument(s) for Use in Data Collection 171 • Describe Procedures for Administering Quantitative Data Collection 171

Useful Information for Producers of Research 171

Useful Information for Consumers of Research 172

Understanding Concepts and Evaluating Research Studies 172

Conducting Your Research 173

Chapter 6 Analyzing and Interpreting Quantitative Data 174

What Are the Steps in the Process of Quantitative Data Analysis? 175

How Do You Prepare the Data for Analysis? 175

Score the Data 175 • Determine the Types of Scores to Analyze 177 • Select a Statistical Program 178 • Input Data 179 • Clean and Account for Missing Data 181

How Do You Analyze the Data? 182

Conduct Descriptive Analysis 183 • Conduct Inferential Analysis 187

How Do You Report the Results? 195

Tables 196 • Figures 196 • Present Results 197

How Do You Interpret the Results? 197

Summarize the Major Results 198 • Explain Why the Results Occurred 199 • Advance Limitations 199 • Suggest Future Research 199

Reexamining Data Analysis and Interpretation in the Parent Involvement Study 199

Key Ideas in the Chapter 200

Identify the Steps in the Process of Analyzing and Interpreting Quantitative Data 200 • Preparing Your Data for Analysis 201 • Analyzing the Data 201 • Reporting the Results 201 • Interpreting the Results 201

Useful Information for Producers of Research 202

Useful Information for Consumers of Research 202

Understanding Concepts and Evaluating Research Studies 202

Conducting Your Research 203

Chapter 7 Collecting Qualitative Data 204

What Are the Five Process Steps in Qualitative Data Collection? 205

What Are the Different Sampling Approaches for Selecting Participants and Sites? 206

Purposeful Sampling 206 • Sample Size or Number of Research Sites 209

What Types of Permissions Will Be Required to Gain Access to Participants and Sites? 210

Seek Institutional Review Board Approval 210 • Gatekeepers 211

What Types of Qualitative Data Will You Collect? 212

Observations 212 • Interviews 217 • Documents 223 • Audiovisual Materials 224

What Procedures Will Be Used to Record Data? 225

Using Protocols 225 • Think-Along About Observing 227

What Field and Ethical Issues Need to Be Anticipated? 228

Field Issues 228 • Ethical Issues 230

Revisiting the Mothers' Trust in Principals Qualitative Study 232

Key Ideas in the Chapter 233

Five Process Steps in Collecting Data 233 • Sampling Approaches to Selecting Participants and Sites 233 • Permissions Required to Gain Access 233 • Various Types of Qualitative Data to Collect 233 • Procedures for Recording Data 233 • Field Issues and Ethical Considerations in Data Collection 233

Chapter 8 Analyzing and Interpreting Qualitative Data 236

- What Are the Six Steps in Analyzing and Interpreting Qualitative Data? 237
- How Do You Prepare and Organize the Data for Analysis? 238
- Organize Data* 238 • Transcribe Data 239 • Analyze by Hand or Computer 239 • Use of Qualitative Computer Programs 241
- How Do You Explore and Code the Data? 243
- Explore the General Sense of the Data* 243 • Code the Data 243 • Think-Aloud About Coding a Transcript 245
- How Do You Use Codes to Build Description and Themes? 247
- Description* 247 • Themes 248 • Layering and Interrelating Themes 251
- How Do You Represent and Report Findings? 253
- Representing Findings* 253 • Reporting Findings 254
- How Do You Interpret Findings? 257
- Summarize Findings* 258 • Convey Personal Reflections 258 • Make Comparisons to the Literature 258 • Offer Limitations and Suggestions for Future Research 259
- How Do You Validate the Accuracy of Your Findings? 259
- Reexamining Qualitative Data Analysis in the Mothers' Trust in Principals Case Study 260

Key Ideas in the Chapter 261

Six Steps in the Process of Analyzing and Interpreting Qualitative Data 261 • Prepare and Organize the Data for Analysis 261 • Explore and Code the Data 261 • Coding to Build Description and Themes 261 • Represent and Report Qualitative Findings 262 • Interpret the Findings 262 • Validate the Accuracy of the Findings 262

Chapter 9 Reporting and Evaluating Research 265

- What Is a Research Report and What Are Its Types? 266

- What Audience Will Receive the Report?* 266 • What Are the Types of Research Reports? 267
- How Should You Structure Your Report? 272
- Look at the Physical Structure of Research Reports* 272 • Design an Appropriate Quantitative Structure 273 • Design an Appropriate Qualitative Structure 273 • Think-Aloud About the Structure of a Study 276
- How Do You Write in a Sensitive, Ethical, and Scholarly Way? 277
- Use Language That Reduces Bias* 277 • Encode Scholarly Terms into Your Research 278 • Use Ethical Reporting and Writing of Research Results 278 • Use an Appropriate Point of View 280 • Balance Your Research and Content 281 • Interconnect Sections for Consistency 281 • Advance a Concise Title 282
- How Do You Evaluate the Quality of Your Research? 282
- Employ Appropriate Standards* 283 • Quantitative Standards 283 • Qualitative Standards 283 • Evaluate with a Process Approach 285
- Reexamining the Parent Involvement and Mothers' Trust in Principals Studies 288

Key Ideas in the Chapter 288

The Purpose of a Research Report and Its Types 288 • How to Structure your Research Report 289 • Sensitive, Ethical, and Scholarly Writing Practices 289 • Criteria for Evaluating a Research Report 289

Useful Information for Producers of Research 289

Useful Information for Consumers of Research 290

PART III Research Designs 293

Chapter 10 Experimental Designs 294

- What Is an Experiment, When Should You Use It, and How Did It Develop? 295
- When Do You Use an Experiment?* 295 • When Did Experiments Develop? 295
- What Are Key Characteristics of Experiments? 296
- Random Assignment* 296 • Control Over Extraneous Variables 297 • Manipulating Treatment Conditions 300 • Outcome Measures 301 • Group Comparisons 302 • Threats to Validity 302
- What Are the Types of Experimental Designs? 307

Between-Group Designs 309 • Within-Group or Individual Designs 313

What Are Potential Ethical Issues in Experimental Research? 321

What Are the Steps in Conducting Experimental Research? 322

Step 1. Decide if an Experiment Addresses Your Research Problem 322 • Step 2. Form Hypotheses to Test Cause-and-Effect Relationships 322 • Step 3. Select an Experimental Unit and Identify Study Participants 323 • Step 4. Select an Experimental Treatment and Introduce It 324 • Step 5. Choose a Type of Experimental Design 324 • Step 6. Conduct the Experiment 324 • Step 7. Organize and Analyze the Data 324 • Step 8. Develop an Experimental Research Report 325

How Do You Evaluate Experimental Research? 325

Key Ideas in the Chapter 326

A Definition of Experimental Research, When to Use It, and How It Developed 326 • Key Characteristics of Experimental Research 326 • Types of Experimental Designs 326 • Ethical Issues in Experimental Research 326 • Steps in Conducting an Experiment 327 • Evaluating an Experiment 327

11 Correlational Designs 337

What Is Correlational Research, When Do You Use It, and How Did It Develop? 338

When Do You Use Correlational Research? 338 • How Did Correlational Research Develop? 338

What Are the Types of Correlational Designs? 339

The Explanatory Design 340 • The Prediction Design 341

What Are the Key Characteristics of Correlational Designs? 342

Displays of Scores 342 • Associations between Scores 345 • Multiple Variable Analysis 348

Potential Ethical Issues in Conducting Correlational Research 353

What Are the Steps in Conducting a Correlational Study? 354

Step 1. Determine If a Correlational Study Best Addresses the Research Problem 354 • Step 2. Identify Individuals to Study 355 • Step 3. Identify

Two or More Measures for Each Individual in the Study 355 • Step 4. Collect Data and Monitor Potential Threats 355 • Step 5. Analyze the Data and Represent the Results 356 • Step 6. Interpret the Results 357

How Do You Evaluate a Correlational Study? 357

Key Ideas in the Chapter 358

The Definition, Use, and Development of Correlational Research 358 • Types of Correlational Designs 358 • Key Characteristics of Correlational Designs 358 • Ethical Issues in Conducting Correlational Research 358 • Steps in Conducting a Correlational Study 359 • Criteria for Evaluating a Correlational Study 359

12 Survey Designs 375

What Is Survey Research, When Do You Use It, and How Did It Develop? 376

When Do You Use Survey Research? 376 • How Did Survey Research Develop? 376

What Are the Types of Survey Designs? 377

Cross-Sectional Survey Designs 377 • Longitudinal Survey Designs 379

What Are the Key Characteristics of Survey Research? 380

Sampling from a Population 381 • Questionnaires and Interviews 382 • Instrument Design 385 • Response Rate 390

How Do You Construct and Analyze a Mailed Questionnaire? 392

The Cover Letter 392 • Overall Questionnaire Construction 398 • Data Analysis of a Research Questionnaire 398

How Do You Design and Conduct an Interview Survey? 398

Stance of the Interviewer 399 • Training of Interviewers 399 • Steps in Interviewing 400 • A Telephone Interview Guide 400

What Are Potential Ethical Issues in Survey Research? 402

What Are the Steps in Conducting Survey Research? 403

Step 1. Decide if a Survey Is the Best Design to Use 403 • Step 2. Identify the Research Questions or Hypotheses 403 • Step 3. Identify the Population, the Sampling Frame, and the Sample 403 • Step 4. Determine the Survey Design and Data Collection Procedures 404 • Step 5. Develop or Locate an Instrument 404 • Step 6. Administer the Instrument 404 • Step 7. Analyze the Data to Address the Research Questions or Hypotheses 404 • Step 8. Write the Report 404

How Do You Evaluate Survey Research? 404

Key Ideas in the Chapter 405

Defining Survey Research, When to Use It, and How It Developed 405 • Types of Survey Designs 405 • Key Characteristics of Survey Research 405 • Constructing and Using a Mailed Questionnaire 406 • Designing and Conducting an Interview Survey 406 • Potential Ethical Issues in Survey Research 406 • Steps in Conducting Survey Research 406 • Criteria for Evaluating Survey Research 406

Chapter 13 Grounded Theory Designs 422

What Is Grounded Theory Research, When Should You Use It, and How Did It Develop? 423

When Do You Use Grounded Theory? 423 • How Did Grounded Theory Develop? 423

Types of Grounded Theory Designs 424

The Systematic Design 424 • The Emerging Design 428 • The Constructivist Design 429 • Choosing Among the Designs 430

The Key Characteristics of Grounded Theory Research 431

A Process Approach 431 • Theoretical Sampling 432 • Constant Comparative Data Analysis 434 • A Core Category 435 • Theory Generation 436 • Memos 438

Potential Ethical Issues in Grounded Theory Research 439

What Are the Steps in Conducting Grounded Theory Research? 440

Step 1. Decide if a Grounded Theory Design Best Addresses the Research Problem 440 • Step 2. Identify a Process to Study 440 • Step 3. Seek Approval and Access 441 • Step 4. Conduct

Theoretical Sampling 441 • Step 5. Code the Data 441 • Step 6. Use Selective Coding and Develop the Theory 442 • Step 7. Validate Your Theory 442 • Step 8. Write a Grounded Theory Research Report 442

How Do You Evaluate Grounded Theory Research? 442

Key Ideas in the Chapter 443

What Is Grounded Theory, When to Use It, and How It Developed 443 • Three Types of Grounded Theory Designs 443 • Key Characteristics of Grounded Theory Research 443 • Potential Ethical Issues in Grounded Theory Research 444 • Steps in Conducting a Grounded Theory Study 444 • Evaluating the Quality of a Grounded Theory Study 444

Chapter 14 Ethnographic Designs 461

What Is Ethnographic Research, When Should You Use It, and How Did It Develop? 462

When Do You Conduct an Ethnography? 462 • How Did Ethnographic Research Develop? 462

What Are the Types of Ethnographic Designs? 464

Realist Ethnographies 464 • Case Studies 465 • Critical Ethnographies 466

What Are the Key Characteristics of Ethnographic Research? 468

Cultural Themes 468 • A Culture-Sharing Group 469 • Shared Patterns of Behavior, Belief, and Language 470 • Fieldwork 470 • Description, Themes, and Interpretation 472 • Context or Setting 473 • Researcher Reflexivity 474

Ethical Issues in Conducting Ethnographic Research 474

What Are the Steps in Conducting an Ethnography? 475

Step 1. Identify Intent and the Type of Design, and Relate Intent to Your Research Problem 477 • Step 2. Discuss Approval and Access Considerations 477 • Step 3. Use Appropriate Data Collection Procedures 477 • Step 4. Analyze and Interpret Data within a Design 478 • Step 5. Write the Report Consistent with Your Design 480

How Do You Evaluate an Ethnography? 480

Key Ideas in the Chapter 481

Defining Ethnographic Research, Its Use, and Its Development 481 • Three Types of Ethnographic Designs 481 • Potential Ethical Issues in

Chapter 15 Narrative Research Designs 501

What Is Narrative Research, When Do You Use It, and How Did It Develop? 502

When Do You Use Narrative Research? 502 • How Did Narrative Research Develop? 502

What Are the Types of Narrative Designs? 503

Who Writes or Records the Story? 504 • How Much of a Life Is Recorded and Presented? 504 • Who Provides the Story? 504 • Is a Theoretical Lens Being Used? 505 • Can Narrative Forms Be Combined? 505

What Are the Key Characteristics of Narrative Designs? 505

Individual Experiences 507 • Chronology of the Experiences 508 • Collecting Individual Stories 508 • Restorying 509 • Coding for Themes 511 • Context or Setting 512 • Collaborating with Participants 512

What Are Some Potential Ethical Issues in Gathering Stories? 512

What Are the Steps in Conducting Narrative Research? 513

Step 1. Identify a Phenomenon to Explore That Addresses an Educational Problem 514 • Step 2. Purposefully Select an Individual From Whom You Can Learn About the Phenomenon 515 • Step 3. Collect the Story From That Individual 515 • Step 4. Restory or Retell the Individual's Story 515 • Step 5. Collaborate with the Participant–Storyteller 515 • Step 6. Write a Story About the Participant's Experiences 516 • Step 7. Validate the Accuracy of the Report 516

How Do You Evaluate Narrative Research? 516

Key Ideas in the Chapter 516

What Is Narrative Research, When Is It Used, and How Did It Develop? 516 • The Types of Narrative Designs 517 • The Key Characteristics of Narrative Designs 517 • Potential Ethical Issues in Gathering Stories 517 • Steps in Conducting a Narrative Study 517 • Evaluating a Narrative Study 517

What Are the Types of Mixed Methods Designs? 539

The Convergent Parallel Design 540 • The Explanatory Sequential Design 542 • The Exploratory Sequential Design 543 • The Embedded Design 544 • The Transformative Design 546 • Multiphase Design 547

What Are the Key Characteristics of Mixed Methods Designs? 548

Provide a Rationale for the Design 548 • Include Collecting Quantitative and Qualitative Data 548 • Consider Priority 548 • Consider Sequence 549 • Match the Data Analysis to a Design 550 • Diagram the Procedures 553

What Are Some Potential Ethical Issues in Mixed Methods Research? 553

What Are the Steps in Conducting a Mixed Methods Study? 554

Step 1. Determine If a Mixed Methods Study Is Feasible 554 • Step 2. Identify a Rationale for Mixing Methods 555 • Step 3. Identify a Data Collection Strategy 555 • Step 4. Develop Quantitative, Qualitative, and Mixed Methods Questions 556 • Step 5. Collect Quantitative and Qualitative Data 556 • Step 6. Analyze Data Separately, Concurrently or Both 556 • Step 7. Write the Report as a One- or Two-Phase Study or a Multiple-Phase Study 557

How Do You Evaluate a Mixed Methods Study? 557

Key Ideas in the Chapter 557

Mixed Method Research, Its Use, and Its Development 557 • Types of Mixed Methods Designs 558 • Key Characteristics of Mixed Methods Research 558 • Potential Ethical Issues in Mixed Methods Research 558 • Steps Used in Conducting Mixed Methods Research 558 • Evaluating a Mixed Methods Study 559
