GUIDING PRINCIPLES FOR THE UX PRACTITIONER xxvii

Chapter 1: Introduction 1

1.1 Ubiquitous interaction 1
1.2 Emerging desire for usability 7
1.3 From usability to user experience 9
1.4 Emotional impact as part of the user experience 24
1.5 User experience needs a business case 33
1.6 Roots of usability 36

Chapter 2: The Wheel: A Lifecycle Template 47

2.1 Introduction 47
2.2 A UX process lifecycle template 53
2.3 Choosing a process instance for your project 60
2.4 The system complexity space 64
2.5 Meet the user interface team 73
2.6 Scope of UX presence within the team 75
2.7 More about UX lifecycles 75

Chapter 3: Contextual Inquiry: Eliciting Work Activity Data 87

3.1 Introduction 87
3.2 The system concept statement 96
3.3 User work activity data gathering 98
3.4 Look for emotional aspects of work practice 120
3.5 Abridged contextual inquiry process 120
3.6 Data-driven vs. model-driven inquiry 121
3.7 History 125

Chapter 4:	Contextual Analysis: Consolidating and Interpreting Work Activity Data		129
	4.1	Introduction	129
	4.2	Organizing concepts: work roles and flow model	132
	4.3	Creating and managing work activity notes	136
	4.4	Constructing your work activity affinity diagram (WAAD)	144
	4.5	Abridged contextual analysis process	157
	4.6	History of affinity diagrams	159
Chapter 5:	Extracting Interaction Design Requirements		161
	5.1	Introduction	161
	5.2	Needs and requirements: first span of the bridge	163
	5.3	Formal requirements extraction	165
	5.4	Abridged methods for requirements extraction	178
Chapter 6:	Constructing Design-Informing Models		181
	6.1	Introduction	181
	6.2	Design-informing models: second span of the bridge	181
	6.3	Some general "how to" suggestions	184
	6.4	A New example domain: slideshow presentations	186
	6.5	User models	187
	6.6	Usage models	209
	6.7	Work environment models	235
	6.8	Barrier summaries	242
	6.9	Model consolidation	244
	6.10	Protecting your sources	246
	6.11	Abridged methods for design-informing models extraction	246
	6.12	Roots of essential use cases in software use cases	248
Chapter 7:	Design Thinking, Ideation, and Sketching		251
	7.1	Introduction	251
	7.2	Design paradigms	253
	7.3	Design thinking	259
	7.4	Design perspectives	261
	7.5	User personas	264
	7.6	Ideation	274
	7.7	Sketching	284
	7.8	More about phenomenology	291
Chapter 8:	Mental Models and Conceptual Design		299
	8.1	Introduction	299
	8.2	Mental models	299
	8.3	Conceptual design	305
	8.4	Storyboards	316

	8.5	Design influencing user behavior	324
	8.6	Design for embodied interaction	328
	8.7	Ubiquitous and situated interaction	331
Chapter 9:	Design Production		333
	9.1	Introduction	333
	9.2	Macro view of lifecycle iterations for design	334
	9.3	Intermediate design	337
	9.4	Detailed design	339
	9.5	Wireframes	340
	9.6	Maintain a custom style guide	348
	9.7	Interaction design specifications	350
	9.8	More about participatory design	352
Chapter 10:	UX Goals, Metrics, and Targets		359
	10.1	Introduction	359
	10.2	UX goals	361
	10.3	UX target tables	362
	10.4	Work roles, user classes, and UX goals	363
	10.5	UX measures	364
	10.6	Measuring instruments	365
	10.7	UX metrics	378
	10.8	Baseline level	381
	10.9	Target level	381
	10.10	Setting levels	382
	10.11	Observed results	386
	10.12	Practical tips and cautions for creating UX targets	386
	10.13	How UX targets help manage the user experience engineering process	388
	10.14	An abridged approach to UX goals, metrics, and targets	389
Chapter 11:	Prototyping		391
	11.1	Introduction	391
	11.2	Depth and breadth of a prototype	393
	11.3	Fidelity of prototypes	395
	11.4	Interactivity of prototypes	398
	11.5	Choosing the right breadth, depth, level of fidelity, and amount of interactivity	402
	11.6	Paper prototypes	407
	11.7	Advantages of and cautions about using prototypes	418
	11.8	Prototypes in transition to the product	420
	11.9	Software tools for prototyping	422

Chapter 12:	UX Evaluation Introduction	427
12.1	Introduction	427
12.2	Formative vs. summative evaluation	429
12.3	Types of formative and informal summative evaluation methods	432
12.4	Types of evaluation data	435
12.5	Some data collection techniques	436
12.6	Variations in formative evaluation results	464
Chapter 13:	Rapid Evaluation Methods	467
13.1	Introduction	467
13.2	Design walkthroughs and reviews	469
13.3	UX Inspection	470
13.4	Heuristic evaluation, a UX inspection method	472
13.5	Our practical approach to UX Inspection	479
13.6	Do UX Evaluation rite	484
13.7	Quasi-empirical UX evaluation	487
13.8	Questionnaires	490
13.9	Specialized rapid UX evaluation methods	490
13.10	More about "discount" UX engineering methods	492
Chapter 14:	Rigorous Empirical Evaluation: Preparation	503
14.1	Introduction	503
14.2	Plan for rigorous empirical UX evaluation	504
14.3	Team roles for rigorous evaluation	506
14.4	Prepare an effective range of tasks	508
14.5	Select and adapt evaluation method and data collection techniques	509
14.6	Select participants	511
14.7	Recruit participants	513
14.8	Prepare for participants	516
14.9	Do final pilot testing: fix your wobbly wheels	528
14.10	More about determining the right number of participants	529
Chapter 15:	Rigorous Empirical Evaluation: Running the Session	537
15.1	Introduction	537
15.2	Preliminaries with participants	537
15.3	Protocol issues	539
15.4	Generating and collecting quantitative UX data	543
15.5	Generating and collecting qualitative UX data	545
15.6	Generating and collecting emotional impact data	548
15.7	Generating and collecting phenomenological evaluation data	550
15.8	Wrapping up an evaluation session	552
15.9	The humaine project	553

Chapter 16:	Rigorous Empirical Evaluation: Analysis		555
	16.1	Introduction	555
	16.2	Informal summative (quantitative) data analysis	556
	16.3	Analysis of subjective questionnaire data	561
	16.4	Formative (qualitative) data analysis	561
	16.5	Cost-importance analysis: prioritizing problems to fix	576
	16.6	Feedback to process	589
	16.7	Lessons from the field	590
Chapter 17:	Evaluation Reporting		593
	17.1	Introduction	593
	17.2	Reporting informal summative results	595
	17.3	Reporting qualitative formative results	597
	17.4	Formative reporting content	599
	17.5	Formative reporting audience, needs, goals, and context of use	601
Chapter 18:	Wrapping up Evaluation UX		611
	18.1	Goal-directed UX evaluation	611
	18.2	Choose your UX evaluation methods	612
	18.3	Focus on the essentials	615
	18.4	Parting thoughts: be flexible and avoid dogma during UX evaluation	616
	18.5	Connecting back to the lifecycle	618
Chapter 19:	UX Methods for Agile Development		619
	19.1	Introduction	619
	19.2	Basics of agile SE methods	620
	19.3	Drawbacks of agile SE methods from the UX perspective	625
	19.4	What is needed on the UX side	626
	19.5	Problems to anticipate	633
	19.6	A synthesized approach to integrating UX	634
Chapter 20:	Affordances Demystified		643
	20.1	What are affordances?	643
	20.2	A little background	644
	20.3	Four kinds of affordances in UX design	646
	20.4	Affordances in interaction design	650
	20.5	False cognitive affordances misinform and mislead	655
	20.6	User-created affordances as a wake-up call to designers	657
	20.7	Emotional affordances	660

Chapter 21: The Interaction Cycle and the User Action Framework 663
21.1 Introduction 663
21.2 The interaction cycle 664
21.3 The user action framework—adding a structured knowledge base to the interaction cycle 674
21.4 Interaction cycle and user action framework content categories 675
21.5 Role of affordances within the UAF 685
21.6 Practical value of UAF 686

Chapter 22: UX Design Guidelines 689
22.1 Introduction 689
22.2 Using and interpreting design guidelines 695
22.3 Human memory limitations 696
22.4 Selected UX design guidelines and examples 702
22.5 Planning 703
22.6 Translation 708
22.7 Physical actions 761
22.8 Outcomes 768
22.9 Assessment 773
22.10 Overall 789
22.11 Conclusions 801

Chapter 23: Connections with Software Engineering 803
23.1 Introduction 803
23.2 Locus of influence in an organization 806
23.3 Which scenario is right for you? 811
23.4 Foundations for success in SE–UX development 812
23.5 The challenge of connecting SE and UX 818
23.6 The ripple model to connect SE and UX 824
23.7 Conclusions 827

Chapter 24: Making It Work in the Real World 831
24.1 Putting it to work as a new practitioner 831
24.2 Be a smart UX practitioner 838
24.3 UX professionalism 839
24.4 Cost-justifying UX 840
24.5 UX within your organization 848
24.6 Parting words 861
