

THE MOTIVATED
JOB SEARCH

A PROVEN SYSTEM TO HELP YOU STAND OUT

SECOND EDITION

BRIAN E. HOWARD, JD, CCMC, CJSS, CPRW

CERTIFIED CAREER MANAGEMENT COACH
CERTIFIED JOB SEARCH STRATEGIST
CERTIFIED PROFESSIONAL RESUME WRITER

Virginia

Table of Contents

Introduction

- The Advantages of a Self-Motivated Job Search
- The Psychology of Persuasion and Your Job Search
- How to Use This Book

Chapter 1: Things to Know about Your Job Search

- Your Job Search Arsenal: Considerations, Tools, and Tactics
- Getting off to a Successful Start
- More about Job Alerts
- Resentment and Bitterness
- Keeping a Positive Attitude
- Your Career . . . Your Responsibility
- How Long Will Your Job Search Take?
- Answering Questions about Your Unemployment: Your Exit Statement
- Searching for a Job While Employed—The Confidential Job Search

Chapter 2: Profiling Your Next Career Opportunity—the Target Opportunity Profile

- A Passions Inventory
- Creating Your Target Opportunity Profile
- Step One—Consider Your Career Wish List
- Step Two—Identify and Evaluate the Factors
- Step Three—Complete Your Profile
- Questions to Ask in Interviews

Chapter 3: Essential Job-Search Topics and Tools

- Understanding the Employer’s Mindset
- Knowing What an Employer Wants in an Open Position
- Matching Experience and “Word Clouds”
- Transferable Job Skills and Professional Qualities
- The Sum Total
- Success Stories
- Branding
- Elevator Speech
- Business Cards
- Traditional Business Cards
- Networking Business Cards
- Resume Business Cards
- Infographic Business Cards

Chapter 4: Impactful Resumes

- Do Job Seekers Still Need a Resume if They Have a LinkedIn Profile
- What a Resume Is Not
- So, What Is a Resume?
- Time Is of the Essence
- Your Resume Is Your Marketing Brochure
- Use of Keywords
- Resume Formats
- Parts of a Resume

- Use of Recommendations on a Resume
- Information NOT to Be Included on a Resume
- Testing the Impact of Your Resume
- Attaching Your Resume to Your Online Profile
- Dealing with Employment Gaps on a Resume
- Creating Your Own Resume

Chapter 5: LinkedIn

- Use of Keywords
- Your LinkedIn Profile - Sections
- Introducing LinkedIn Optimization
- How Does It Work . . . How Does a HR Recruiter Use LinkedIn to Find Candidates?
- The Goal of Optimization
- Keyword Location
- Keyword Stuffing
- Completeness
- Connections
- Compelling
- Put It to the Test
- Strategies for Your LinkedIn Profile When You Are Unemployed
- Which Strategy Would Be Best for You?
- Job Alerts
- The Open Candidates Feature on LinkedIn
- Measuring the Effectiveness of Your LinkedIn Profile
- What Do You Do with Your LinkedIn Profile after You Get a New Job?
- Keep Your Profile Current
- Sample of an Optimized LinkedIn Profile

Chapter 6: Cover Letters and Other Written Communications

- Types of Cover Letters
- The Cover Letter Success Formula
- Cover Letters and Career Transition Job Seekers
- Cover Letters and Recruiters
- Thank-You Letters
- Thank-You Letter When You Are Not Selected for the Job
- Thank-You Letter When You Withdraw from an Interviewing Process
- Email Follow-Up Letters
- Something to Think about
- Another Idea
- Some Final Words about Written Communications
- Shifting Gears

Chapter 7: Professional Networking

- Hidden Job Market
- Networking
- Fear of Networking
- Why Networking Is So Effective
- Types of Networks
- Evaluating the Strength and Quality of Your Professional Network
- Who to Connect and Network with
- Create Your Professional “Cabinet”
- Create Your Sales Company
- The Peripheral and Pruning
- LinkedIn
- Spreading the Word—Asking for Help
- Networking in a Local Market for a Local Position
- Get Busy! (and Keep Momentum in Networking)

Maintaining Your Network
Professional Associations
Association/Industry Conferences
Icebreaker Questions for Conferences and Events
Goals of the Networking Conversation
Face-to-Face Networking as an Introvert

Chapter 8: Social Media: Twitter and Facebook

Twitter
Facebook
A Caution about Online Networking
What Employers Discover and Look for on Social Media

Chapter 9: Working with Search Firms

What Recruiters Can and Cannot Do for You
Retainer and Contingency Search Firms
How to Find Recruiters
Call Hiring Executives
Call Your Colleagues in the Industry
Researching LinkedIn and the Internet
Contacting a Recruiter
Finding a Recruiter That Can Help You
Some Final Advice Regarding Recruiters

Chapter 10: Proactively Marketing Your Professional Credentials

The Work
Get (and Stay) Organized
Determine Your Target Employers
Identify the Hiring Executive
Research the Hiring Executive's Email Address
Using the Telephone
The Positive Impact of Using the Phone
Excuses for Not Using the Phone in a Job Search
Phone Zone
Phone Phear: The Pre-Game Jitters
The Marketing Call Script
Objections
Ask One Question after the Objections
Rejection
Screening
Voice Mail
Email Marketing Your Professional Credentials
Sending Your Marketing Email
Email Marketing through LinkedIn
Follow-Up Calls
Drip Email Marketing
The Research Interview
Using Videos or YouTube in Your Job Search
When All Else Fails . . .
Where to Spend Your Time and Effort
How to Honestly Measure Your Progress
The Ultimate Truths

Chapter 11: Interviewing

How Much Are Interviews Worth?
How an Employer Views an Interview
Can You Do the Job?

Will You Do the Job?
Will Your Performance Have a Positive Impact on Company Goals?
Do You Fit In?
Are You Affordable?
Strategy for a Successful Interview
Strategy for Opening the Interview
First Impressions
Interview Progression
Interview Preparation
Interview Formats
Practice Interviews
Answering Traditional Interview Questions: The UPAC Method
Telephone Interview
The Unannounced Telephone Interview
Webcam or Skype Interviews
Screening Interview Conducted by a Human Resources Representative
Meal Interview
Behavioral Interview
Preparing for and Answering Behavioral Interview Questions
Common Competencies Covered by Behavioral Interview Questions
Your Interview Wardrobe
Interviews with Potential Peers or Subordinates
Explaining a Job Termination in an Interview
Explaining Employment Gaps or Long-Term Unemployment
Explaining Job Hops in an Interview
Handling the Money Question
Closing the Interview
General Interviewing Tips
Debrief Yourself
Write a Thank-You Letter
Second and Home-Office Interview Strategies
Common Interviewing Mistakes
Not Getting the Job: Handling the Rejection
Hiring Timeline: a Longer Process

Chapter 12: Unique Tactics That Create Differentiation

Brag Book
When to Present the Brag Book
Career Summary Sheet
Career Summary Sheet - Example
Testimonial Sheet
Action Plan
Advanced Techniques to Create Differentiation
 Personal Website
 A Blog
 Infographic Resume

Chapter 13: References

Choose Your References Wisely
References and a Secret Job Search
Unsolicited Third-Party Affirmation

Chapter 14: Evaluating and Negotiating a Job Offer

Never Play Hardball
Ten Steps for Evaluating and Negotiating an Offer: The WITS Approach™
If Negotiations Fail
Declining an Offer of Employment

Negotiation Mistakes
Final Thoughts on Successful Negotiation
How to Buy Time with a Job Offer

Chapter 15: Resignation and Counter Offers

Resignation
Counteroffers
 Financial Promotional
 Emotional
 Preemptive
Career Hazards of Accepting a Counteroffer
Detachment: a Technique to Defuse the Emotions of Resignation

Chapter 16: Covenants-Not-To-Compete and Non-Solicitation Agreements

Definitions of a Covenant-Not-To-Compete and a Non-Solicitation Agreement
Where They Appear
Determining Which Kind of Agreement You Have Enforceability
Reasonable in Scope, Space, and Time
Employer's Reactions to Breaches of Agreement
Right-to-Work States
Practical Application—Effects of These Agreements on Your Job Search

Chapter 17: How to Relaunch a Stagnant Job Search

Chapter 18: Required Job-Search Skills for Long-Term Career Employment

Chapter 19: A Personal Letter to You about Career Management

Appendix A: Success Story Worksheet and Samples

Appendix B: Sample Resumes

Appendix C: Sample Letters

Bibliography